

local situation. These naturally would be more beneficial held just prior to the opening of the spring season."

PLAN TO HOLD APRIL RACE FOR AUTOMOBILES ON ROAD

Promoters Earnestly Engaged in Arranging for Country Spin Around New York Next Spring.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The plan to hold an automobile road race next April has received considerable attention in many quarters and it is said that a great deal of earnest work is being done in the way of arranging for this race, which, it is hoped, will take place at a point not far distant from New York. The Importers' Automobile Salon, which has shown an unusual interest in road and even track racing, and the members of which seem inclined to give even greater attention to this in the future, recently sent two representatives over one of the routes which it is understood has been considered for this coming race. Four routes are under consideration, and for obvious reasons it has not been thought wise, on the part of those interested, to make public any facts concerning these routes. The salon representatives, C. R. Mabley, the manager of that organization, and Paul Lacroix, the head of the Renault-Feres branch, have, however, inspected two of the proposed routes, one of which they pronounce to be equal to the best circuits for a road race they have ever seen.

Following the inspection Lacroix said: "One of the roads which we inspected, and which it is possible may be selected for next spring's road race, met thoroughly with the approval of the representatives of the Importers' Salon who went over it. We are, of course, not at liberty to give any indication of its whereabouts, but I feel that it would not be a breach of confidence to state that it is about thirty-six miles in length and embraces in that distance roads which are fully equal to portions of the Dieppe circuit for the French Grand Prix of this year.

"I do not mean to say that the entire circuit is of this character, for in it will also be found a stretch of about six miles of very poor going, and there will also be encountered a number of hills and numerous turns, some of which are rather dangerous, which will tax the skill of the men in charge of the steering wheels. But I have no hesitancy in stating that it is as good a course as any that I have seen used in America, all conditions of racing considered, and in so far as it is possible to forecast our report to the trades and contest committee of the salon, I feel that we can do nothing else than report favorably upon the proposition."

In seconding the views of Lacroix Mabley said: "I think it can go without saying that this course, if selected, will meet with the approval of the salon members to the extent of bringing about entries of foreign cars. The Importers do not need or demand special roads for racing and are prepared to meet American cars on the style of road which the American drivers prefer. I feel, after inspecting the circuit that we are considerably

ENCOURAGEMENT

Chicago Record-Herald

I am afraid... I will not be able to appear... I have a sore throat

the country, regardless of other affiliations. In the distribution of space the Chicago show knows no faction. That the older and more important manufacturers obtain some preferences is true, and very properly so, but this advantage is based solely on the qualifications mentioned.

Thus the Chicago show held under the auspices of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, Inc., is supported by the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, the American Motor Car Manufacturers' Association, and the Motor and Accessories Manufacturers' Association, Inc.—in short, all the organizations of the trade, both in complete cars and accessories.

The result of this combination is that the Chicago show is exactly what is claimed for it—the only national show of the year. Its exhibitors exceed in numbers all other shows. It may be questioned whether the number does not exceed those of any other two shows combined. The amount of floor space occupied is infinitely greater than that of any other show, and exceeds that of the two New York shows combined.

Styles Will Be Separated.

This year the commercial cars will be separated from those designed for pleasure purposes. The national association, after mature consideration, concluded that the time had arrived for a comprehensive, independent display of the commercial cars. The industry has assumed such importance that it is well able to support a show of its own and give to the world a demonstration of its development. For that reason the first annual exhibition of commercial motor vehicles has been organized. While it is, in some respects, a part of the old show, it was thought wise to give it a distinct title, thus marking the time when the commercial car assumed such importance as to demand separate representation in a show of its own.

This show will have a building all to itself—a building large enough to house any of the automobile shows except that at Chicago. The Seventh Regiment Armory, where the show will be held, was formerly known as Tattersall's, and is located at Sixteenth and State streets, four blocks from the Coliseum and the First Regiment Armory. It is 353 feet long and 153 feet wide. There is not a post in the entire building.

It was anticipated that about twenty concerns would take part in the show. At the time this notice is issued thirty-two companies have taken space. They will show every form of motor-propelled commercial vehicles and, in addition, farm implements, fire department wagons and other novelties.

Visiting dealers will be made welcome, as usual, and there will be the usual arrangement for their admission to both departments. They should make themselves known to the clerk in charge of the bureau of information at the First Regiment Armory. He will issue a card which entitles the holder to admission every day between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock.

Attention is called to the fact that a department, in which will be found a large number of important exhibits, has been added to the Coliseum. It is in the basement and houses...

licants. All July. There and a few w been possible applicants sin jority have, pe

Many

At this time makers of auto of accessories slim prospect despite the fa which formerly have been tr building. The lseum and secc cept the moto taken by mer Assessor's Ma

For the first of admission w and Thursday. show for the l so dense that l ter for investig to which they in price of adm these people chance to mak new models w afford the atte give them the instruction. T other five days tofore.

The show will on Saturday, Sunday excepte each evening a

One price of visitor to adm ings. It is not crowd the com vent proper inv uly interested that it is due to partment to affo gating visitor ev all the informat

Visitors to th ciently interest will be given th commercial sho dentally, every secure the atten interested. Invi tickets, have be Manufacturers' chants in all par

Each exhibit many invitations tion among pr others. There i that there will b of people who a to the capabilit merical vehicles of reliable goods

GREET'S HIS

Supposed Dead

of Fo

PAWTUCKET

Chalot, a moto

priced when, on

door, he opened

his fellow emplo of mourning on

local situation. These naturally would be more beneficial held just prior to the opening of the spring season."

PLAN TO HOLD APRIL RACE FOR AUTOMOBILES ON ROAD

Promoters Earnestly Engaged in Arranging for Country Spin Around New York Next Spring.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The plan to hold an automobile road race next April has received considerable attention in many quarters and it is said that a great deal of earnest work is being done in the way of arranging for this race, which, it is hoped, will take place at a point not far distant from New York. The Importers' Automobile Salon, which has shown an unusual interest in road and even track racing, and the members of which seem inclined to give even greater attention to this in the future, recently sent two representatives over one of the routes which it is understood has been considered for this coming race. Four routes are under consideration, and for obvious reasons it has not been thought wise, on the part of those interested, to make public any facts concerning these routes. The salon representatives, C. R. Mabley, the manager of that organization, and Paul Lacroix, the head of the Renault-Feres branch, have, however, inspected two of the proposed routes, one of which they pronounce to be equal to the best circuits for a road race they have ever seen.

Following the inspection Lacroix said: "One of the roads which we inspected, and which it is possible may be selected for next spring's road race, met thoroughly with the approval of the representatives of the Importers' Salon who went over it. We are, of course, not at liberty to give any indication of its whereabouts, but I feel that it would not be a breach of confidence to state that it is about thirty-six miles in length and embraces in that distance roads which are fully equal to portions of the Dieppe circuit for the French Grand Prix of this year.

"I do not mean to say that the entire circuit is of this character, for in it will also be found a stretch of about six miles of very poor going, and there will also be encountered a number of hills and numerous turns, some of which are rather dangerous, which will tax the skill of the men in charge of the steering wheels. But I have no hesitancy in stating that it is as good a course as any that I have seen used in America, all conditions of racing considered, and in so far as it is possible to forecast our report to the trades and contest committee of the salon, I feel that we can do nothing else than report favorably upon the proposition."

In seconding the views of Lacroix Mabley said: "I think it can go without saying that this course, if selected, will meet with the approval of the salon members to the extent of bringing about entries of foreign cars. The importers do not need or demand special roads for racing and are prepared to meet American cars on the style of road which the American drivers prefer. I feel after inspecting the circuit that we are considerably nearer a real road race than we have been for many months."

ENCOURAGEMENT.

Chicago Record-Herald.

"I'm afraid," said the promoter, "that I'll not be able to appear tonight. I have a sore throat."

the country, regardless of other affiliations. In the distribution of space the Chicago show knows no faction. That the older and more important manufacturers obtain some preferences is true, and very properly so, but this advantage is based solely on the qualifications mentioned.

Thus the Chicago show held under the auspices of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, Inc., is supported by the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, the American Motor Car Manufacturers' Association, and the Motor and Accessories Manufacturers' Association, Inc.—in short, all the organizations of the trade, both in complete cars and accessories.

The result of this combination is that the Chicago show is exactly what is claimed for it—the only national show of the year. Its exhibitors exceed in numbers all other shows. It may be questioned whether the number does not exceed those of any other two shows combined. The amount of floor space occupied is infinitely greater than that of any other show, and exceeds that of the two New York shows combined.

Styles Will Be Separated.

This year the commercial cars will be separated from those designed for pleasure purposes. The national association, after mature consideration, concluded that the time had arrived for a comprehensive, independent display of the commercial cars. The industry has assumed such importance that it is well able to support a show of its own and give to the world a demonstration of its development. For that reason the first annual exhibition of commercial motor vehicles has been organized. While it is, in some respects, a part of the old show, it was thought wise to give it a distinct title, thus marking the time when the commercial car assumed such importance as to demand separate representation in a show of its own.

This show will have a building all to itself—a building large enough to house any of the automobile shows except that at Chicago. The Seventh Regiment Armory, where the show will be held, was formerly known as Tattersall's, and is located at Sixteenth and State streets, four block from the Coliseum and the First Regiment Armory. It is 353 feet long and 153 feet wide. There is not a post in the entire building.

It was anticipated that about twenty concerns would take part in the show. At the time this notice is issued thirty-two companies have taken space. They will show every form of motor-propelled commercial vehicles and, in addition, farm implements, fire department wagons and other novelties.

Visiting dealers will be made welcome, as usual, and there will be the usual arrangement for their admission to both departments. They should make themselves known to the clerk in charge of the bureau of information at the First Regiment Armory. He will issue a card which entitles the holder to admission every day between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock.

Attention is called to the fact that a new department, in which will be found a large number of important exhibits, has been added to the Coliseum. It is in the basement and houses a licants. All July. There and a few will have been possible applicants since majority have, pe

Many

At this time makers of auto of accessories of slim prospect despite the fact which formerly have been taken by men Assessor's Ma

For the first of admission w and Thursday. show for the l so dense that l ter for investig to which they in price of adm these people chance to mak new models w afford the atte give them the instruction. T other five days tofore.

The show will on Saturday, Sunday excepte each evening a

One price of visitor to adm ings. It is not crowd the com vent proper inv uinely intereste that it is due to partment to affo gating visitor ev all the informat

Visitors to th ciently interest will be given ti commercial sho dentally, every secure the atten interested. Invi tickets, have be Manufacturers' chants in all par

Each exhibit many invitations tion among pr others. There i that there will b of people who a to the capabil merical vehicles of reliable goods

GREET'S HIS

Supposed Dead

of F

PAWTUCKET

Chalot, a moto

prised when, on

door, he opened

his fellow emplo

of mourning on

local situation. These naturally would be more beneficial held just prior to the opening of the spring season."

PLAN TO HOLD APRIL RACE FOR AUTOMOBILES ON ROAD

Promoters Earnestly Engaged in Arranging for Country Spin Around New York Next Spring.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The plan to hold an automobile road race next April has received considerable attention in many quarters and it is said that a great deal of earnest work is being done in the way of arranging for this race, which, it is hoped, will take place at a point not far distant from New York. The Importers' Automobile Salon, which has shown an unusual interest in road and even track racing, and the members of which seem inclined to give even greater attention to this in the future, recently sent two representatives over one of the routes which it is understood has been considered for this coming race. Four routes are under consideration, and for obvious reasons it has not been thought wise, on the part of those interested, to make public any facts concerning these routes. The salon representatives, C. R. Mabley, the manager of that organization, and Paul Lacroix, the head of the Renault-Feres branch, have, however, inspected two of the proposed routes, one of which they pronounce to be equal to the best circuits for a road race they have ever seen.

Following the inspection Lacroix said: "One of the roads which we inspected, and which it is possible may be selected for next spring's road race, met thoroughly with the approval of the representatives of the Importers' Salon who went over it. We are, of course, not at liberty to give any indication of its whereabouts, but I feel that it would not be a breach of confidence to state that it is about thirty-six miles in length and embraces in that distance roads which are fully equal to portions of the Dieppe circuit for the French Grand Prix of this year.

"I do not mean to say that the entire circuit is of this character, for in it will also be found a stretch of about six miles of very poor going, and there will also be encountered a number of hills and numerous turns, some of which are rather dangerous, which will tax the skill of the men in charge of the steering wheels. But I have no hesitancy in stating that it is as good a course as any that I have seen used in America, all conditions of racing considered, and in so far as it is possible to forecast our report to the trades and contest committee of the salon, I feel that we can do nothing else than report favorably upon the proposition."

In seconding the views of Lacroix Mabley said: "I think it can go without saying that this course, if selected, will meet with the approval of the salon members to the extent of bringing about entries of foreign cars. The importers do not need or demand special roads for racing and are prepared to meet American cars on the style of road which the American drivers prefer. I feel after inspecting the circuit that we are considerably nearer a real road race than we have been for many months."

ENCOURAGEMENT.

Chicago Record-Herald.

"I'm afraid," said the soubrette, "that I'll not be able to appear tonight. I have a sore throat."

the country, regardless of other affiliations. In the distribution of space the Chicago show knows no faction. That the older and more important manufacturers obtain some preferences is true, and very properly so, but this advantage is based solely on the qualifications mentioned.

Thus the Chicago show held under the auspices of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, Inc., is supported by the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, the American Motor Car Manufacturers' Association, and the Motor and Accessories Manufacturers' Association, Inc.—in short, all the organizations of the trade, both in complete cars and accessories.

The result of this combination is that the Chicago show is exactly what is claimed for it—the only national show of the year. Its exhibitors exceed in numbers all other shows. It may be questioned whether the number does not exceed those of any other two shows combined. The amount of floor space occupied is infinitely greater than that of any other show, and exceeds that of the two New York shows combined.

Styles Will Be Separated.

This year the commercial cars will be separated from those designed for pleasure purposes. The national association, after mature consideration, concluded that the time had arrived for a comprehensive, independent display of the commercial cars. The industry has assumed such importance that it is well able to support a show of its own and give to the world a demonstration of its development. For that reason the first annual exhibition of commercial motor vehicles has been organized. While it is, in some respects, a part of the old show, it was thought wise to give it a distinct title, thus marking the time when the commercial car assumed such importance as to demand separate representation in a show of its own.

This show will have a building all to itself—a building large enough to house any of the automobile shows except that at Chicago. The Seventh Regiment Armory, where the show will be held, was formerly known as Tattersall's, and is located at Sixteenth and State streets, four block from the Coliseum and the First Regiment Armory. It is 353 feet long and 153 feet wide. There is not a post in the entire building.

It was anticipated that about twenty concerns would take part in the show. At the time this notice is issued thirty-two companies have taken space. They will show every form of motor-propelled commercial vehicles and, in addition, farm implements, fire department wagons and other novelties.

Visiting dealers will be made welcome, as usual, and there will be the usual arrangement for their admission to both departments. They should make themselves known to the clerk in charge of the bureau of information at the First Regiment Armory. He will issue a card which entitles the holder to admission every day between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock.

Attention is called to the fact that a new department, in which will be found a large number of important exhibits, has been added to the Coliseum. It is in the basement and houses about twenty

Applicants. An July. There and a few w been possible applicants shorlity have, pe

Many At this time makers of aut of accessories slim prospect despite the fr which formerly have been tr building. Theiseum and secc cept the moto taken by men Accessories Ma

For the first of admission w and Thursday, show for the l so dense that i ter for investig to which they in price of adm these people chance to mak new models w afford the atte give them the instruction. T other five days tofore.

The show will on Saturday, Sunday excepte each evening a

One price of visitor to adm ings. It is not crowd the com vent proper inv uinely intereste that it is due to partment to affo gating visitor ev all the informat

Visitors to th ciently interest will be given ti commercial sho dentally, every secure the atten interested. Invt tickets, have be Manufacturers' chants in all par

Each exhibit many invitatio tion among pr others. There 1 that there will b of people who a to the capabil merical vehicles of reliable goods

GREET'S HIS

Supposed Dead

of Fe PAWTUCKET

Chalot, a moto

prised when, on

door, he opened his fellow emplo of mourning on