TO HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN.

INDIANAPOLIS CARS IN LIST

[By Carbureter.]

Indianapolis drivers, mechanics and cars will form a good part of the small automobile army that moves southward next week for the big automobile meet at Atlanta, following the running of the Vanderbilt cup race today on the Long Island course. The Atlanta meeting will be from November 9 to 13, inclusive. It is expected that three hundred or more people will make the trip, and arrangements are being made for a special train on October 31. The National, Marmore and Marion racing cars, drivers and their helpers will form the Indianapolis delegation that will make the trip.

In Atlanta the racing drivers and their helpers will be quartered at the track, forming a village known as the speedway village and located right at the track side. Here will be found a machine shop, restaurant, clubrooms and everything to be desired.

Among the entries to date are:

Strang, in fourteen events, with two flats.

Hearne, in eighteen events, Flat.

Burnham, in twenty events, Flat and Simplex.

Daale, in eighteen events, Renault.

Cilquett, in four events, Pope-Toledo.

Famous Motor is Fast.

An interesting story is told about John Aitken, driver of the National car, with which he made such a splendid showing in practice work in the Vanderbilt cup course.

The four-cylinder 1910 National which Mers drove at the Indianapolis motor speedway and which jumped the track and was responsible for the death of Kallum, the mechanic, as well as three spectators, was taken to the factory and taken down. The engine, transmission and rear system were put into the new frame and put up as a toy tonneau and delivered to the New York National agent for a demonstrating car.

Aitken had a new car for the Vanderbilt cup race which was only finished in time to ship to get into practice work. This car had had no road work, and it was found the engine was rather stiff.

To get quick action, the engine from the New York agent's demonstrating car was put into Aitken's chassis, and this is the engine which has been showing such remarkable speed in the Vanderbilt course—the same engine that was in the Merrick car when it was wrecked on the Indianapolis motor speedway.
