BRIAR CLIFFE TROPHY RACING RULES CHANGED

Committee of Eastern Event, Decides on Maximum Bore for Engines.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—At a recent meeting of the Briarcliffe trophy committee another change was made in the rules for the automobile road race this year. It is now planned to make the rules practically the same as they were before the last change. The provisions must receive the approval of Walter W. Law, the donor of the trophy, before they may be finally adopted.

After considerable talking a majority of those present agreed that the maximum bore for four-cylinder engines should be set at 5 1/2 inches, which was the bore limit for the first Briarcliffe race last spring in Westchester County. It was also decided not to include any minimum or maximum wheel base limit in the rules, leaving this to be settled by the makers who enter cars for the contest.

The most recently adopted rules for the race had provided for a bore limit of 4 1/2 inches and a 6-inch stroke for four-cylinder engines; a minimum weight limit of 2,300 pounds and a wheel base of 118 inches. The rule that required ten or more cars to be ready before last year's race was not included in this year's conditions. A resolution was passed asking Mr. Law to approve the new rules.
