Brooklands Track Now Holds Records

The Brooklands track in England now holds most of the world's records, the fastest time for half a mile being :14.076, or 127.877 miles an hour. For one mile flying start the record is :31.055, or 115.923 miles an hour. The record for 100 miles is 1:06:53.49, or 89.70 miles an hour. The American track record for one mile is :37.71, or 95.4 miles an hour, made by Strang on a Fiat at Atlanta. For 100 miles the record is 1:22:35.35, or 72.4 miles an hour, made by Robertson in a Fiat 60 at Atlanta. The fastest half mile credited to any driver was made by Marriott in a Stanley steamer, when he covered half a mile at Ormond in :28.1-5. The drivers at the Indianapolis speedway expect to drive at the rate of 200 miles an hour.

receive a certificate of performance in accordance with the rules adopted by the manufacturers, but that no trophy is awarded to any contestant. This is a general approval, and a special certificate of three, of which Mr. Speare was to be chairman, was appointed to confer with Mr. Glidden regarding the design of his trophy.

"I would like to urge upon all motorists," he said, "the necessity of driving squarely for fair and impartial competition."

Dealers in Autos Will Give Exhibit
Early Date.

At a meeting of the Louisville Automobile Dealers' Association recently held, it was decided to give an automobile exhibit in Louisville some time in the near future. The members are enthusiastic over the contemplated show. The object of the show was to discuss business matters of interest to the motorists and to consider the following: garaging, repairing and rent rates. At the annual election the following were elected: Prince Wells, president; R. G. Wells, vice president, and Robert Levy, secretary.
