

by Clarence Mackay, Harry Payne Whitney and the Meadowbrook contingent, wagered furiously on Hylas from 7 to 5 to even money. So great was the plunge on Hylas that John M. T. went from 6 to 5 to 6 to 2 in the betting.

The Champion Steeplechase today was worth $12,200 and a $500 gold tankard. Early in the day Manager Howland Belmont Park Autumn Weight-for-Age Race 2 1/4 miles—Running Water, 108 (Miller), 1 to 4; Nealon, The Cricket; time, 4:01 2-5; (three starters). Sixth, 1 3-16 miles—Miss Crawford, 124 (Miller), 16 to 5; Chimney Sweep Tommy Waddell; time, 2:01.

AT LOUISVILLE—First race, selling, 5 1/4 furlongs—Sally M, 110 (Nicol), 6 to 5; Salie Suter, Hereafter; time, 1:08 1-5. Second, Jockey Club's fall meeting will be inaugurated on Monday and continue for four racing days. The prospects are that the meeting will be highly successful. There are already many horses at the track and others are on their way here from Louisville, where the meeting ended today. A good card of six overnight events is offered for Monday and each is well filled.

full-sized when he and Cooley at Los his thing two rivals best of ouits on Jeffries a Jack d I have air If the will af- he rounds elr work, that kind constant out when fighters possiblil- nce: O'Brien nd Noah an's jaw. urns fell. rusoe re- s floored ack and wreathed nounce-

Walcott ent of the s. for if s Demon dy there ish kingght do to a second too easy, or Jimmy g our old York and a, but if way most lunge into ve grown the time le up his Gibbs, the y told re- are tricks ame as in e contests Club, and or since, ight kind of signing "Young e highball to wit- rned Wait- ng Demp- ere, sworn him that ll's tutor, ster in his ad to en- cle scrap ennay re- led Mitch-that there a Mitchell ever chal- st; but he round that o sign ar- Club, and hereat. A s gathered re enough were on speak of hings, and d that he pleted and d "Young rell. "You o you sign

Why, they to box me,

Gibbs, but place. r protege found that ed.

HATS OFF TO THE BUICK

Yesterday at the Fair Grounds

MODEL F

Two Cyl'n lers, 22 H. P., $1,150

The Buick again demonstrated its superiority over all cars of its class by coming in first in the three-mile runabout race yesterday at the Fair Grounds. Its nearest competitor was a quarter of a mile behind at the finish. Entries in this race included the Buick, the Premier, the Mitchell and the Leader. The machine that won the race was one of our new 1907 models taken right out of stock. If you want to be right---buy a Buick.

FEDERAL MOTOR CAR CO.

STATE AGENTS

111 to 119 Kentucky Avenue

ALSO STATE AGENTS FOR STEVENS-DURYEA

ets Williams Tomorrow Night.

WALTER LITTLE.

of Pennsylvania State the day a report that C. ment of the University of covered the 100 yards in equalling Kelly in every occurred at the Cincinnati on May 12, but a little that the timers knew about sprinting and were the importance of checking the proper moment. It days wonder and With-empt were forgotten in a the record will rest in ment of what might have source arose a claimant a 100 yards and this time t only very recently ac-athletics. It was from hero from the land of the ru Fujii, a student in the the Imperial University of mber of the Undokwai, or

FAST CARD ARRANGED

LITTLE TO MEET WILLIAMS

Bronson and Cole Will Box Two Chicago Boys in Show Given by Athletic Club.

MONDAY NIGHT'S CARD OF

FRISCO ON THE MAP

HAS MONEY FOR FIGHTERS

Split in the Trust Caused O'Brien to Choose Los Angeles for Bout.

BY W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 20.—Eastern sporting writers noticed that Jack O'Brien gave Los Angeles the preference over San Francisco as a field of operations and they assigned a wrong cause for the dapper Philadelphian's choice of location. They think that Jack, who is as wise as an owl in all things connected with the game he gets his living by, after looking the ground over decided that what remains of this town can not make it worth while for an associate world's champion to tarry here.

This is all a mistake. San Francisco has plenty of money to spend on pugilistic entertainment. It paid over $7,000 for the privilege of seeing Dick Hyland and Eddle Hanlon in action, and the chances are the same pair of lads could not have drawn $3,000 in the days before the fire.

The outlaw amateurs whang one another in the presence of congested houses once a week, and the amount of shop a Queensberry paragrapher is required to talk when he accosts acquaintances on the street cars and elsewhere shows that interest in the sport is general.

It wasn't a prospect of a poor harvest that caused O'Brien to snatch up his dolls and clear to Los Angeles—it was because of a split in the cabinet of San Francisco's one and only fight trust.

If a recently arrived traveler from the Southland speaks the truth, O'Brien delivered himself as follows one evening:

"It seems to me that Coffroth and Graney are engaged in a fight to a finish for the control of the boxing situation up there. Each of them stands well politically and each has a big personal reputation and a large following. It did not take me long to determine that I was between two fires, and as I didn't know which one to warm up to I came here to look for work. Coffroth and Graney remind me of the old circus gag. Working together they are like a pair of scissors.
With a screw loose they become a couple of daggers. I guess there are big houses to be had in San Francisco, but while the vendetta lasts a fellow would never know where he was going to land. That's why I'm in Los Angeles."

When O'Brien hears there is talk of getting out an injunction to prevent the Kaufmann-Berger contest from taking place because Coffroth leased one pavilion after Graney, as president of the fight trust, has leased another, he will probably shake hands with himself and say: "Jack, old fellow, you saw what was coming and you did not linger."

Meanwhile sporting men are beginning to ask where this Coffroth-Graney business is going to end. There is no particular reason why the gentlemen named shouldn't enjoy a personal feud, but it is a pity that their differences should interfere with the passing of a sport with which they both have been so long identified.

As matters stand fight fans do not care to discuss projected events seriously, not knowing whether such events will ever come to a head. Sporting writers are hampered in their work for similar reasons, and the effect generally of this rift in the fight trust lute is disquieting and confusing.

Jack O'Brien must have felt a full-sized tremor of pride fleeting his spine when he succeeded in putting out both Fred Cooley and Jim Tremble on contract time at Los Angeles last Tuesday night. This thing of attempting the demolition of two rivals on one evening is risky at the best of times, and any one having any doubts on

The Boys' Saks And

IN New York, that Company in their Boys' wardrobery.
facilities.

The Saks standard
We duplicate the mo-their splendid values. ful assortments and t-ness that has made th-
New York.

To see is to bette-No matter how exten-
limited, the advantage You'll choose from b-ceptional values; at pr-

This applies not ments, but to the sundnishings. For our Boys able thing a boy wears

We invite you to get acquainted

Saks &

Washington and Pennsylvania S

OKENITE HOME IN FRONT

HYLAS WINS STEEPLECHASE

Clarence Mackay Wagers Furiously on Favorite at 7 to 5—Roseben Race Against Time Postponed on Account of Soft Mud.

BELMONT RACE TRACK, N. Y., Oct.
20.—Okenite was favorite in the White Plains Handicap with Smiling Tom. They Hylas. In a grueling drive Hylas won Okenite made all the running and won cleverly.

The Champion Steeplechase furnished a cracking finish between Colony and Hylas. In a grueling drive Hylas won by a nose. Hylas was a strong favorite.
The betters in the clubhouse, headed by Clarence Mackay, Harry Payne Whitney and the Meadowbrook contingent, wagered furiously on Hylas from 7 to 5 to even money. So great was the plunge on Hylas that John M. T. went from 6 to 5 to 5 to 2 in the betting.
The Champion Steeplechase today was worth $12,200 and a $500 gold tankard.
Early in the day Manager Howland called off the proposed against time. A drizzle the morning hours had soft and sticky and record-breaking purpos-son, owner of Rosebe-footing and said his ho-to best advantage on Halls was an odds-opening race and she-players a moment's un-the running and winn-Merrill. Frank Gill, t-tired in the last furl-Eu Claire, a 7 to 1 seven-furlong race f-Dissent, a 15 to 1 ch-to 1, beat Lamartine, t-the place. The favor-no speed.

First race, 6 furlongs, (Horner), 4 to 5; Merrill, 1:15—4-5. Second, the Steeplechase, about 3 1/2 (Ray), 7 to 5; Coligny, Third, the White Plains longs, straight—Okenite, 9 to 5; Kentucky Beau-1:14 1-5. Fourth, selling course—Beauclaire, 93 Dissent, Lamartine; time, Belmont Park Autumn V-2 1/2 miles—Running Wat-4; Nealon, The Cricket; t-starters). Sixth, 1 3-16 ford, 124 (Miller), 16 to Tommy Waddell; time, AT LOUISVILLE—Firs-furlongs—Sally M, 110 lle Suter, Hereafter; ti-