PLAN PATRIOTIC ATHLETIC BODY

Indianapolis, June 22.—Plans for the organization of the International Patriotic Athletic association, which has been in process of formation for the last year, were divulged here last night coincident with the departure for the east, in the interest of the project of Charles C. Carr, former American Association and Federal league player and manager.

The articles of incorporation for the association, set forth that the funds raised through tournaments, which will include all forms of athletics, will be turned over to patriotic objects which will be selected by the board of directors from time to time.

Present plans include, it is said, the holding of four day tournaments in twenty cities of the east, west and middle west. They include Indianapolis, New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington, St. Louis, Toronto, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Toledo, Louisville, Youngstown, Minneapolis, Cincinnati, Scranton, Reading and possibly other cities.

Besides local men, promoters of the association are said to include James J. Corbett, John McGraw, Barney Oldfield, Johnny Kilbane, Harry Hempstead, Garry Herrmann, Jim Thorpe, Grant Hugh Brown and James C. Dunn. Mr. Carr expects during his trip to the east to interest John K. Tener, president of the National League, and Clark Griffith, of the Washington American club in the project.

TRANSFER TODAY'S GAME TO MASSILLON

Owing to the unfavorable condition of the Bergers playing field at Canton, today's game between Central Steel and the Canton Bergers has been transferred to the Blues Athletic field. With weather permitting the game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock. This change will give the local fans and supporters of the Steelers a chance to witness an extra game in the regular Shop league schedule.

WAR STAMPS, PRIZES FOR BEST GOLFERS

Golfers of the Lakeside Country club today engage in competition on the nine-hole links in a best ball foursome, and war savings stamps will be the reward for the winners. The event is another of the features arranged weekly by the greens committee and under the direction of instructor Davidson.

Not all of the veterans will be in the foursome for the reason that plans are being made to attend Red Cross exhibition matches in Cleveland by Chick Evans, national champion, and Warren Wood, both of Chicago, and a pair of professionals.

Players here who expect to attend the state tourney which starts in the Sixth City Monday will go to Cleveland Saturday, having the privileges of the Oakwood club where the Ohio will be conducted.

TWILIGHT BASEBALL

Canton, June 22.—Twilight baseball was introduced to Canton fans in fitting style Thursday evening on the City field when the Noakers won a hard earned victory over the team representing the Hercules Motor Co. 4-1. More than 1,000 people witnessed one of the best played games of the present campaign.

From next Sunday to August 25, and probably until dusk descends Labor day, leading semi-pro baseball teams of Massillon, Canton and Akron every Sunday will engage in a series of contests to decide the independent title of this section, a string of competition which contains great promise for the uplift of the semi-pro brand of the national pastime, badly dented since the opening of the 1915 schedule.

Canton opens the season series by invading Akron Sunday. Three-game series are on between Canton and Akron, and Akron and Massillon, but a five game series will be played between Canton and Massillon, the fourth and fifth games to be played either in Canton or Massillon Labor day in order to finish competition before the opening of the annual inter-city elimination series of the national federation the first Saturday in September. In the drafting of the schedule Charles Gape represented Canton, Ben Fairless, the Central Steel, and Ralph Lattimore, veteran infielder, handled Akron's affairs.

Umpiring will be done under a double system. Each team will carry an arbiter, and the visiting judge of plays will be stationed on the base lines. Here are the games as decided upon at the conference:

June 23—Canton at Akron; July 4—Akron at Massillon (one game); July 14—Akron at Canton; July 21—Massillon at Canton; July 28—Massillon at Akron; August 4—Canton at Massillon; August 11—Canton at Akron; August 18—Akron at Massillon; August 25—Massillon at Canton.

CLEVELAND SPEED FIENDS INVADING CITY WITH STARS

Messages from Cleveland today were to the effect that the White Autos would come to Massillon, Sunday afternoon, with the strongest aggregation of sandlotters ever assembled in this section of Ohio. Every player is an ex-professional who would have been in minor league or Class AA league ball today, but for the collapse of the pastime in many of the larger cities.

"Frenchy" Berger, well known to the fans all over the country, will likely twirl for the visitors. He has been duplicating his days of big league prowess with the White Autos. Lingrel will perform for the Agathons. The weather man promises fair weather for Sunday and a record breaking crowd should flock to the park. The game will prove one of the premier events of the season.

SULLIVAN SHOWS SPEED IN WORKOUTS

Eddie Sullivan, the Central Steel bearcat, is fast rounding into fighting trim for his go with Billy McCann at Akron on July 4. Besides rusting the heavy stuff around at the plant Sullivan is going through a strenuous workout daily in the gymnasium and on the road. He is preparing to begin anew a ring career that will eventually land him among the topnotchers. If McCann can be squelched, he figures he is on the high road to success.

HERRMANN SHOWS HOW BIG LEAGUES BACK GOVERNMENT

Cincinnati, June 22.—Chairman August Herrmann, of the national baseball commission, in a statement which was sent to Provost Marshal General Crowder yesterday calls the latter's attention to the fact that 258 baseball players of the 309 players carried on the reserve lists of the sixteen major league clubs will be forced to seek other employment if the amended selective service regulations, issued from Washington, today are strictly enforced.

"If the regulations as issued are to be applied to these 258 ball players of the major leagues," said Chairman Herrmann's statement, "it will absolutely crush a business that has more than $8,000,000 capital invested, exclusive of the value of their franchises and players."

In his statement Chairman Herrmann said: "The book value of the combined plants of the sixteen clubs not including the franchise value or the value of players, is $8,737,854.12, while the amount subscribed by the officials and stockholders of the various clubs for Liberty bonds amounted to $5,522,450.00."

The statement brought out the fact that of the 531 reserve players on major league clubs on October 1, 1917, ninety-one, or 17.1 per cent, have volunteered and sixty-three, or 11.5 per cent, have been drafted into service. In this connection Chairman Herrmann says:

"I am quite sure that no other line of business or occupation can make a better showing than this."
The statement informs General Crowder that the average salary of the players who volunteered was $2,521.24 and of those who were drafted $2,441.26, for a period of six months only. To this paragraph Chairman Herrmann added:
"So, it cannot be held that they sought service in order to benefit their condition from a financial standpoint."
The statement adds:
"It will be quite a loss to some of the clubs when their players who are now in classification 1-A are called. We realize that there cannot and should not be any exceptions made in cases of this kind, and that class of players must stand in the same category as far as the draft regulations are concerned, as any other person."
The statement says that the game offers a field for relaxation, diversion and recreation unequalled by any amusement throughout the country and in conclusion adds:
"Attention is called to the fact that the professional baseball players are employed only during six months of the year and that all of them stand ready during the off season, from October to March to seek essential employment."

INDIANS DEFEAT WORLD'S CHAMPS

Word comes out of Chicago that Ping Bodie or some other philosopher once remarked that everything comes to him who waits. Johnny Enzmann, Indian rookie hurler, declares the sage put one right over the plate with that remark. Johnny has been waiting all season to win a game that he started and finished but not until yesterday was his desire gratified, Chicago being trounced 3 to 1.

And not only did the Indians make their young hurling colleagues wait until the longest day in the year arrived, but they also kept him on the anxious seat until the ninth inning. Prior to that time Johnny, himself, had scored the only Indian tally, the one that apparently was to save the tribe from a defeat in nine innings. Wamby delivered the winning counter for the Redskins. Wamby was an added starter. Turner had begun as the second sacker, as Manager Fohl had first decided that it might be just as well to let Wamby sit on the bench for a few days and with pencil and paper keep account of how many men were out.

DAREDEVIL DRIVERS WILL SHATTER SPEED RECORDS ON OHIO OVAL TRACKS

How do the fastest aeroplanes and racing automobiles compare in speed? High over the European battlefield the scout type of aeroplanes have flown at the rate of 150 miles an hour. Just what speed land machines can make will not be known until it is seen how fast the latest type of aero-motors can drive the ponderous racing cars.

In 1916 over the Sheephead Bay speedway, the fastest track in America, the English Sunbeam and French Peugeot travelled a few laps at the rate of two miles a minute. These trials were accomplished under the most favorable conditions, but the dizzy pace could not be maintained for any distance. Automobile experts at the time very decidedly argued that the limit had been reached.

Dario Resta, speedway champion of 1915 and 1916, who will compete with the world's greatest driver in the liebrty handicap of 100 miles at Cincinnati speedway, July 4th.

But they failed to figure on the progress to be scored by automobile engine authorities building light, powerful motors with many features borrowed from the airplane type of engine. This departure in automobile construction had only gotten underway when Ralph De Palma, using one of the latest models, smashed all existing speed records when he drove a total of 633.12 miles in six hours last season.

Since then the manufacture of speed motors, spurred on by the necessity of the government's aerial programme reaching expectations, have made several startling changes.

Just what these innovations really amount to won't be known until after the 4th of July races at the Cincinnati speedway. Veteran drivers like De Palma and Dario Resta, who have specialized in the development and use of aeroplane motors in racing automobiles, firmly believe that in a 100-mile competition they will be able to hit up a consistent rate of speed of nearly 120 miles an hour.
