LYTLE ENTERS RACES

WILL PILOT A JACK RABBIT

FAMOUS SPEED MERCHANT EXPECTED
TO CUT QUITE A FIGURE IN EVENTS
TO BE HELD AT INDIAN-APOLIS SPEEDWAY.

Herb Lytle will pilot a racing Jack Rabbit at the Speedway. Indianapolis is speed mad. Since the issuing of the entry blanks for the events to be held at the local race course, many inquiries are being received, while all the local factories are tuning their cars for the fray.

H. A. Moross, director of contests at the Speedway, has been looking over the foreign cars that are in this country, and the indications are that at least one of them will be owned locally within the next thirty days. F. B. Stevens of Rome, N. Y., who brought the famous three Darracq cars to this country that lowered all marks at the Florida beach, has the car that Demegeot drove on the Ormond course when he lowered the record for ten miles and placed the mark close to five minutes.

Stevens desires to dispose of this car, and efforts are being made to place it here. At least two of the local fast drivers are trying to secure it, and the indications are that the monster speed creation of a European factory will soon be whirling around the streets here.

The gold-plated Overland is an incentive for some on making the fastest mile at this course, while the indications are that other and more expensive prizes will be added to the fastest mile list.

Entries are beginning to pour in, and the indications are that the events will be more than filled. Three cars are in the big race to date for the Wheeler-Schebler trophy, with the entry list out for less than forty-eight hours.

Herbert Lytle added his entry to the ones made last night by the National team. Lytle is one of the greatest drivers in the country today, and at long-distance racing is a peer.

Lytle's teammate will be Joe Bates, who drove with the Indiana man in the Herbert Lytle added his entry to the ones made last night by the National team. Lytle is one of the greatest drivers in the country today, and at long-distance racing is a peer.

Lytle's teammate will be Joe Bates, who drove with the Indiana man in the Cobe race. Bates is a skillful motorist, and the team is expected to make a showing second to none in the Speedway events.

Several other Indiana factories have pledged entries, which will be in the hands of the committee in a few more days.

The entries of half a dozen Stoddard-Daytons are expected within the next day or so. These, with the teams from Detroit, piloting the Chalmers and other fast machines, and the Locomobiles and Knox from the East, will form a classy list of entrants.
