

HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR AT SPEEDWAY NEXT MONTH

THAT IS THE PREDICTION MADE
BY CARL FISHER.

SAYS ALL RECORDS WILL GO

[By Carbureter.]

One hundred miles an hour in an automobile will be run at the Indianapolis motor speedway in the speed trials to be held next month, according to today's prediction of Carl Fisher, president of the company. The exact date for the trials has not been set for the reason that it is not known exactly when the bricklayers will finish their work, but the trials will be held, according to Fisher, even if only on the ground. However, good weather conditions and a monster crowd are expected.

It is the desire of the speedway company to start the new year with new records for every distance up to one hundred miles and it is confident of doing that. Comparative tests have shown that the new brick speedway is 25 per cent. faster than gravel or asphalt and 15 per cent. faster than cinder tracks. Wonderful speed is expected in the speed tests, as some of the fastest cars in the world will be entered. The grand stand and bleacher seating capacity at the speedway is now being doubled.

Decide Upon Two Prize Cups.
