

st Lives.

MANICIAN.

NOTE FOUND ON BODY LEADS TO IDENTITY

Paper That Inferred Man Was Logan Proves Person to Be James West.

TANGLED CASE UNRAVELED

Crumpled Receipts Thrown Aside
Give First Positive Clue to Name.

One of the three men killed on the Motor Speedway yesterday went unidentified until midnight, when he was discovered to be James West, 29 years old, a meat cutter in the employ of the Coffin-Fletcher Company, meat packers. He lived at 541 West Merrill street, and was married, but had no children.

The identification of West came about through two clues discovered by newspaper men at about the same time. One came through the efforts of Benjamin F. Logan who was at first believed to have been killed, and the other came through a more careful search of the body of the dead man than the police and the coroner had made.

Logan, after he had returned to his grief-stricken home, bringing happiness where gloom had been, consented to go with a newspaper man to the City Morgue to view the body of the dead man. He was sure he could not recognize the body. Later, when asked who might have had a card in his pocket bearing his name, address and occupation, as had the dead

The Fin of All

Pure Ra

Also fine English Re two or three-piece s colors, sold all season $18.00, $20.00 and $22.50, choice, Mond

Liner

In all colors, jet but trimmed; regular pr range from $7.50 up $10.00. Choice,
Monday

Pretty Summer

New long-waisted choice of a variety rials, all colors. Valu $10.00. Choice of a hundred Monday.

LING

MANICIAN.

dead man than the police and the coroner had made.

Logan, after he had returned to his grief-stricken home, bringing happiness where gloom had been, consented to go with a newspaper man to the City Morgue to view the body of the dead man. He was sure he could not recognize the body. Later, when asked who might have had a card in his pocket bearing his name, address and occupation, as had the dead man, Logan recalled that a man named West had asked him to join a lodge of Haymakers, a branch of the Red Men, and had taken down his name, age, address and occupation.

Card Serves as Clue.

This was the card, as it afterward developed, which was found on the dead man's body. It was this card that made the authorities believe the dead man was Logan until his father went to his place of employment and found him.

About the same time a newspaper man searched the body of the dead man. It was a grewsome task, but it was done thoroughly. In a vest pocket he found a receipt made out to J. West from the South West Aid Society.

When the newspaper man who searched the body at the Morgue found what later developed to be the receipt from the Aid Society, an officer who was helping with the new search told him that the bloody papers he had were only cigarette papers. He insisted upon a more careful examination, however, and it was as a result of this that the name was found.

The two clues when compared made it seem certain that the dead man was indeed West. Through a friend of Logan's, the address of West was found, and at midnight it was found that West had gone to the Speedway and had not returned.

Friends of the man went to the City Morgue where they identified him positively.

Identification Positive.

The first man to view the body at the morgue and suggest that it was West was James Saul, 1415 Ringgold avenue, but the features of the dead man were so mutilated and besmirched as the result of the terrible accident that his identification was uncertain.

Mrs. West was asleep when the news of her husband's death came to her at her home. She arose, received the news, and was frantic with grief, her cries arousing the entire neighborhood.

Awakened by the manifestations of the poor woman's grief, neighbors came in, and several of them went to the City Morgue, where the identification was made complete. The wife did not go to the morgue.

Mrs. West said that her husband had gone to the Speedway at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had not been alarmed by his failure to return, as he occasion-

hairs, all colors. Value $10.00. Choice of a hundred Monday.

LING

In white, pink or blue worth up to $8.00.

Entire Stock

Including Cream Serge
Weaves at about Half

Formerly sold at $6.00
Choice of 200 or more

White W

Up to $3.

Lawn or lingerie, lace and embroidered styles. Slightly otherwise perfectly every way. Choice
Monday

SE

PLEADED WITH

CLAUDE KEL-

nd, calling some assistance of the conscious or in a n, lying scattered Surgeons and called, but young aid. His father, ashed to the hos- r was the least made complete. The wife did not go to the morgue.

Mrs. West said that her husband had gone to the Speedway at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had not been alarmed by his failure to return, as he occasionally stayed out until midnight.

BELIEVED HUSBAND DEAD.

Woman Prostrated at False News of Speedway Accident.

A case of mistaken identity with regard to James West, killed at the Motor Speedway caused grief for a time in the home of Benjamin F. Logan, 542 Drover avenue, who it was thought was the victim. Mrs. Logan was asked about the accident as soon as news reached the city, but declared her husband was at work as usual in the yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad. She would not believe that he had been killed until through some error the Drover avenue address was announced as authentic.

Mrs. Logan was almost prostrated at the news, and hurriedly dispatched her husband's father, Ellis Logan, to the Pennsylvania yards to inquire if her husband had really been at the Speedway during the afternoon. Her husband was much overdue from work, and Mrs. Logan was almost convinced her husband was dead when her father walked into the house with him. He had met him in the railroad yards preparing to go home, and hurried there with him as speedily as possible.

The wife was prostrated with grief by the time her husband and his father returned to her house and the scene which followed the arrival of her husband alive and well was touching.

The mistake in the identity of the man was the result of the finding in the pocket of the dead man of a card of of an I. O. O. R. M. Lodge bearing the name and address of Logan.

VICTIM OF MISTAKES.

Man at First Reported Dead Once Before Reported in Accident.

An unusual coincidence in the death and identification of James West, one of the three Motor Speedway victims in yesterday's accident, came to light in the story told by Benjamin F. Logan, who was at first thought to have been one of the Speedway victims. This is the second time that Logan has been mistaken for some one who was in an accident.

Several years ago, when Logan was employed by the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company, there was another man by the same name and initials who was injured in an accident. The

PLEADED WITH S TO STOP RACE C

Mother of Dead Mech
Could Not Believe Her
Had Been Killed.

WIFE FRANTIC WITH

Happy Little Home B
Dark When News of F
ity Is Broken to Fami

If Claude Kellum, the young clan who was killed at the Speed terday, had listened to the entr his mother he would not have the fatal accident at the race co
"Claude, if you will only st from those races tomorrow I will anything I have," the mother sa young man while they were talk day evening.

"Now, mother, don't you worry,
I'll get back all right," he said.

The two parted and it was nea hours after the accident yester Mrs. Kellum learned that her been killed. The mother read i of an extra edition of an afterno that "Claude Kellogg" had been the Speedway and her son's name mentioned in the list of those been killed.

"Thank heaven the races are Claude is all right," sighed Mrs.
and with that she dismissed the of his danger from her mind.
later she was informed that her in a serious condition at a hosp a few minutes later word was br her that he was dead.

[illegible]

On Aug 1 the vessel was reported to be up for 1-2 days.

Mrs. Kellum had conversed upon the subject at her millinery shop on Madison avenue. As she talked, trying to dissuade herself that it was not her son who had been killed, she was overcome.

CLAUDE KEL.

1, calling some assistance of the unconscious or in a lying scattered Surgeons and called, but young id. His father, shed to the hoswas the least were broken. old's condition is is fractured, and may have been

ATE SPEEDWAY

er, It is Believed e Race.

no was seriously at the Speedway 51 years of age lived his whole 219 North New married and has his two sisters, he also unmarried. uch attached to n S. Tapping, a Indianapolis, who age of 55. Henry maker and suc- office of superin- ills Cabinet Mak-a been standing and when built tremuity of the over of sport or and had no to have at the ed to do so by ed not leave the black, and it is rears before the members to their the citizens about thing was re- and as first re- member who was to have it a and they were re- the attention to the citizens of

VICTIM OF MISTAKE

Man at First Reported Dead Once Before Reported in Accident.

An unusual coincidence in the death and identification of James West, one of the three Motor Speedway victims in yesterday's accident, came to light in the story told by Benjamin F. Logan, who was at first thought to have been one of the Speedway victims. This is the second time that Logan has been mistaken for some one who was in an accident.

Several years ago, when Logan was employed by the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company, there was another man by the same name and initials who was injured in an accident. The Logan of the accident suffered injuries which necessitated the amputation of both feet. At that time word was sent to Logan's father and mother that he had been injured and it was several hours after the first word was brought to his home that he walked in. He had not been in the accident and was not injured.

Once, also, Logan received a love letter written by a woman to a man with a name identical with his own, and it took some time for him to convince his friends that he had a namesake.

WOMAN IS KILLED BY AUTO.

Wife of Carriage Manufacturer Run Down by Bank President's Machine.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 21.—Mrs. James H. McCabe, wife of the president of the McCabe-Powers Carriage Company, was run down and killed this afternoon by the automobile of B. F. Edwards, president of the National Bank of Commerce. Fred Bachofner, the chauffeur, who was in the machine, was arrested.

NOMINATED FOR JUDGESHIP.

Jacob Fawcett of Omaha, Neb., Wins Victory Over G. Blamer.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 21.—Complete returns from sixty-seven of the ninety-one counties of Nebraska indicate that Jacob Fawcett of Omaha has won the third Republican judgeship nomination over F. O. Blamer of Kearney in Tuesday's primary.

FIRE CAUSES $120,000 LOSS.

Fireman Destroyed MILLION POUND OF LONDON OF AGRICULTURE

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 21.—The miller of Ashland was destroyed by fire on the night of the 20th. The miller was a large building and was used for the storage of grain.

"New mother, don't you worry. I'll get back all right," he said.

The two parted and it was several hours after the accident yesterday Mrs. Kellum learned that her son had been killed. The mother read in an extra edition of an afternoon paper that "Claude Kellogg" had been killed in the Speedway and her son's name was mentioned in the list of those who had been killed.

"Thank heaven the races are over. Claude is all right," sighed Mrs. Kellum, and with that she dismissed the thought of his danger from her mind. A few minutes later word was brought her that he was dead.

"Claude is not dead, I'm sure of it," she cried. "Look, the paper says Claude Kellogg who was killed," she held up a copy of the paper to back up her assertions.

Mrs. Kellum had conversed with her subject at her millinery shop on Broadway avenue. As she talked, trying to persuade herself that it was not her son who had been killed, she was overcome

