The flying start without the initial lap was explained to the drivers at the regular drivers' meeting by Referee Marmon.

DePalma Replaces Merz.

DePalma arrived in the city yesterday morning, but he came without a car. His Mercedes was in no condition to race nor was McWay's Peugeot. Ralph was anxious to get a chance at the money and he accepted the offer of the Speedway Racing Company to drive the Peugeot which Charles Merz was having trouble with. The twin of Aitken's Peugeot and is exceptionally fast. A bottle of plants should result when these two-star drivers get together in the three events.

Merz has been a leading contender in the great field of race drivers. DePalma has a reputation second to none and it would be a good idea to have him in the lead.

Merz has had a checkered history in previous speedway events. He holds the honor of having won one big 80-mile classic and lost one after seemingly having it won.

Aitken a Favorite.

Aitken is a favorite with Speedway fans all over the country. He is a hard worker, besides being fitted with superdriving sense. His recent performance in Cincinnati, when he drove the daring Resta and beat him twice, is a good sign before the Englishman runs into trouble. He could make him a great favorite today. Indianapolis race fans will watch him above all others. He is a local boy and has been connected with the race since its infancy.

He has raced for $1,000 in prize money in the three events.

In the race the purse totals $4,000. The fifty-mile purse is $2,000, while the twenty-mile purse is $1,000. The Bosch prize also is in competition. The championship 100-mile race and points in the $8,500 purse, as well as points in the A. A. A. championship award will be given to those who place.
