LONDON SOCIETY HAS MILKED ITS FIRST COW

IT'S ONE OF THE MANY RESOLUTIONS ENGERED BY THE WAR.

(By Wilbur S. Forrest, United Press Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, July 24 (By mail).—London society has milked its first cow. It has milked its first goat; pitched its first hay; harnessed its first horse and churned its first butter.
It's one of the many resolutions of war.
"War is hell" on the farmer. London society has come to the farmer's rescue. He needs help. All his hands have gone to war. Why not women? somebody said. That somebody gave London society a chance to be useful.
In the very heart of fashionable west end, within earshot of Buckingham castle, there was laid a model farm. No. 16 Carlton House terrace, the home of Lord Cowdray, and the adjoining residential grounds of the Earl of Lonsdale were requisitioned by society working under the auspices of the land council of the National Political League. The object was to teach women how to farm—to take the place of men who have left the plow to shoulder the rifle.
The opening day of the "farm school" found a buxom Jersey cow complacently grazing on the short-cropped and well-tended grass under the aristocratic windows of Carlton House terrace. A resplendent rooster, perched on a balustrade, watched over a bevy of fussy hens scratching in the gravel of the driveway. Near by, not far down the drive, stood a team of heavy draft horses hitched to a vehicle that looked suspiciously like an American hayrack. A ton of hay lay near by waiting for someone to come along and pitch it. Likewise a half-dozen shiny milkpails and a huge milk can were waiting for the milkmaids to begin on the Jersey cow.

A churn on the lawn of Carlton house evidenced what the milk was coming to.
A pair of fat sleek "mamma" goats next appeared. They arrived through the big front gate where an immaculate butler took them in charge. Like the cow they came to give their milk. A flock of muddy white ducks waddled up to inspect the goats.
Then arrived the "farmers," and "farmgirls" who had pledged themselves to teach hundreds of the poorer sisters the art of farm work put in appearance clad in regulation sunbonnets and gingham.
The Hon. Mrs. Graham Murray was the chief dairymaid. The patient Jersey was brought around and submitted to being "pailed." It was hard work for some, but they rolled their sleeves above fascinating forearms and took turns at "bossey," who submitted without a "moo"—or a kick.

The milk passed into the big can to await its fate at the churn.
At various spots about the great lawn other society debutantes were taught to harness the horses, pitch hay, feed the chickens and ducks, tend a hive of bees and how to catch a chick.
After dinner of simple farmlike fare the "farmers" gathered on the lawn to hear a series of lectures by agricultural experts.
The land council of the National Political League expects to train hundreds of young women in the art of farm work—but activities will soon be transferred to less aristocratic surroundings.
THEME LAUDED
"American Issue" Gives Him a Front Page Boost.
The "American Issue," the national temperance paper, gives Theodore F. Thieme, of Fort Wayne, the following little boost and recognition on the front page of its issue of Aug. 10: "One of the most valued supporters of the league work in Indiana is Theodore F. Thieme, president and manager of the Wayne Knitting mills at Fort Wayne and the founder and moving spirit in the Citizens' league movement in the state. For many years Mr. Thieme has been advocating needed reforms in the state, particularly reform in city government. These years of effort have convinced Mr. Thieme that the salon stands in the way of every attempted reform, and that the first duty of the people in their struggle for better things is to remove the liquor business. In accomplishing this first duty Mr. Thieme recognizes the Anti-Saloon League as the logical agency. It means much to the Anti-Saloon League and to the work of reform in general to have such hearty support from such influential men as Mr. Thieme.

Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin, Massachusetts commissioner of health, has established in Boston a new department to be known as the division of hygiene and has appointed Prof. Selahar M. Gunn, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Simmons college as its chief. Some of the duties of the division will consist in directing child labor welfare work, public health exhibits, public lectures and distributing health bulletins and pamphlets.

RACER'S WIFE CAN DRIVE MACHINE, TOO

Mr. and Mrs. Dario Resta.

Mrs. Dario Resta, wife of the famous automobile racer who recently broke the world's record for 100 miles in Chicago, is something of a driver herself. When the pair go out for a little pleasure spin, Mrs. Resta is often seen at the wheel. The accompanying picture was made in Chicago the other day while Mrs. Resta was driving her husband to the track, where a little later he made the new speed record.

Robert Morris — "Financier of the Revolution"

IT HAS BEEN SAID the three very great men of our War for Independence were Washington, Franklin and Morris. In the history of mankind no man ever had a more arduous commission than did Morris in financing the armies of Washington. The credit of the nation was practically valueless, and time after time it was the personal credit of Morris which brought forth the money. The financial means raised from his own private resources made the victory at Trenton possible. When Washington proposed the capture of Lord Cornwallis and his entire army, it was from Morris, the patriot and private citizen, and not from the treasury of the Confederate States from which the money came. Thus Washington's last great victory was made possible, and the long and bloody struggle for National Independence brought to an end. Morris was the first to suggest our present system of National banks—the best banking system that any nation has ever known. He was the first American to send a ship forth flying the Stars and Stripes. Like Franklin he signed both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. He was very hospitable, and whenever Washington visited Philadelphia he was the guest of Morris. He was ever a moderate user of light wines and barley brews, and opposed Prohibition Laws, which make the many suffer for the faults of the few. For 38 years Anheuser-Busch have been brewing the kind of honest barley-malt and Saazer hop brews which the wisdom of Morris knew make for real temperance. To-day at the home of BUDWEISER 7500 people are daily required to meet the natural public demand. BUDWEISER'S ever-increasing popularity comes from quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor. Its sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

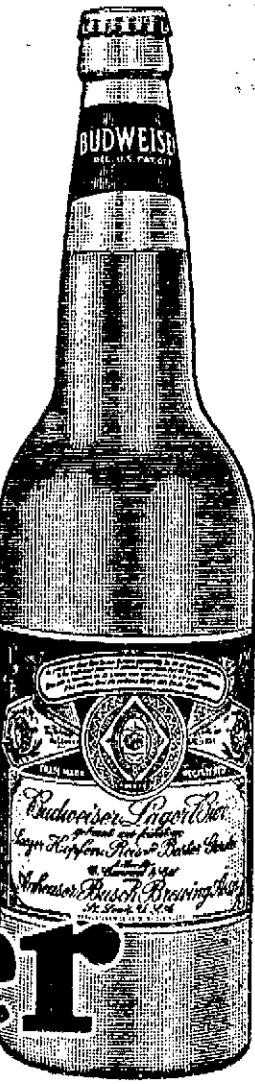

Visitors to St. Louis are courteously invited to inspect our plant—covers 142 acres.

Two Parades On Woman's Day, Wed., August 18

There will be two parades at Robinson Park on Woman's Day, Aug. 18th. Wearing Newport scarfs, souvenirs of the 1915 Old Ladies' Congress, the venerable women will slowly march, two abreast, from the pavilion to the band stand in the grove, where the exercises will be held. The Hard Times Parade will line up at 4:00 p. m. in front of the pavilion. The line will move through the park to the band stand, where the prizes will be distributed. Imported German sewing baskets, also many useful and ornamental baskets, as well as the imported French china plates that have been on exhibition in the pavilion, will be awarded this year to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade. It is but fit and proper that those who so largely aid in the day's success should receive the souvenirs. There will also be ten grand prizes for the best ten costumes suggestive of hard times.
