

AWAITS 'NOTHER CHANCE AT BILL

NYBERG ENTRY. HARRY ENDICOTT AT WHEEL.

Rattlesnake Twins is the name conferred on Harry and Bill Endicott, drivers of Nyberg and Case entries, respectively, in the five-hundred-mile because of the long standing professional jealousy between them. The younger of the two, Harry, is shown above at the wheel of the crimson racer with which he hopes to tear his brother's reputation to shreds before the big contest is over. The other day Bill took a fall out of him in a brush and since that time Harry has been working on his car like a fiend to get even. He now says that the trouble which bothered him has been corrected, and that accordingly he is laying for Bill the next time he shows on the track. An interesting setto is expected when they meet. The Nyberg is an Indiana entrant, from Anderson, and in its tuning up process has shown splendid speed and good tire economy.
