

GREAT DRIVERS PRACTICE IN SETTING PACE AT SPEEDWAY

RALPH DE PALMA, IN MERCEUR

SPENCER WISHART, IN MERCEUR

Both DePalma's and Wishart's Mercers are showing fast time in their tryouts at the speedway, hitting ninety miles with ease. The brush shown in the accompanying photograph was caught when the two pilots were practicing at setting the pace for each other. DePalma's car was running in third speed and Wishart's in high. DePalma says he expects to drive most of the race in third, hence his eagerness to see how his machine compares with that of Wishart's using the gear in question. No difficulty whatsoever was experienced in getting the requisite speed, he says. The limit of the car, in high, is 105 miles an hour. Wishart's is capable of about ninety-five. Its lack of speed is somewhat offset by its lighter weight, which is about 2,400 lbs. compared with the 2,700 of DePalma's. The latter car with Bragg's, is about the heaviest on the track. All of them are expected to make a strong showing, particularly the Italians, on account of the great record of its driver.
