

ELIMINATION TRIALS AT SPEEDWAY TODAY

TRUE

A. A. A. OFFICIALS FAIL TO APPEAR FOR SUNDAY WORK.

BOB BURMAN'S GREAT MARK

The elimination trials at the speedway were postponed until today, even though the electric timing instruments were in operation yesterday, because of the delay in the arrival on the course of Leo Herkoff, representative of the American Automobile Association, and A. Hardington, referee of the contest. Their presence is necessary to make the driver's performances official. Once these men are on the field, they assume complete charge of everything, the race management having no further connection with the event, save as custodians of the grounds. They were expected to be on hand today, however, in order to get the bulk of the preliminary work out of the way as soon as possible. The majority of the entries at the track are in and ready at present both for their time trials and the race. Most of them were scheduled to establish their eligibility today. The manner in which they acted yesterday, when every machine out for work, including practically the entire field, save the Isotta, who have not yet arrived, demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of the fifteen thousand spectators present that it could go faster than seventy-five miles an hour, the speed necessary to qualify.

BOB BURMAN'S GREAT MARK

Official elimination trials at the speedway were postponed until today, even though the electric timing instruments were in operation yesterday, because of the delay in the arrival on the course of Dave Beecroft, representative of the American Automobile Association, and A. L. Pardington, referee of the contest, whose presence is necessary to make the driver's performances official. Once these men are on the field, they assume complete charge of everything, the race-course management having no further connection with the event, save as custodian of the grounds. They were expected to be on hand today, however, in order to get the bulk of the preliminary work out of the way as soon as possible.

The majority of the entries at the track are fit and ready at present both for their time trials and the race. Most of them were scheduled to establish their eligibility today. The manner in which they acted yesterday, when every machine out for work, including practically the entire field, save the Isottas, who have not yet arrived, demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of the fifteen thousand spectators present that it could go faster than seventy-five miles an hour, the speed necessary to qualify.

for work, including the 15000 cars, who have not yet arrived. Demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of the fifteen thousand spectators present that it could go faster than seventy-five miles an hour, the speed necessary to qualify.

Burman's Great Mark.

The trial of Bob Burman, in his green Keston, was looked forward to with particular interest, on account of the sensational fast lap he reeled off yesterday, when he circled the course in 1:37.45, at a speed better than ninety-three miles an hour. This is by far the fastest time ever hung up on the speedway or anywhere else, save on the Brooklands track, for a 400 cubic inch car. It is a wonderful tribute to Burman's ability, both as a motor car designer and racing pilot, inasmuch as Bob built practically the whole machine himself. In his qualification attempt today Burman expected to go even faster than that, with the idea of equaling or breaking the official track record of 1:37, made in 1911 by Wilcox at the wheel of a 600-inch National.

The Jay-Eye-Bee, which was kept off the course yesterday when the A. A. A. officials failed to show, was likewise scheduled to be sent after the record today. This gigantic machine, of 200-horse power, did an unofficial lap in '12 a couple of years ago. With Disbrow at the wheel it will attempt to equal or better this mark.

Other machines which will qualify without trouble, as evidenced by their good work yesterday, are the Stutzes, the Nyborg, the Masons, Sunbeam, Gray Fox, Peugeot, Anel, Schacht, the Mercers, the Tulas and the Case cars. The Henderson, Mercedes and Stearns Knights, Stottas and Deltal are expected to qualify later, or as soon as they can be got in shape to do their best. At present they are still either being tuned up, or else have not yet arrived. The entire field, it is estimated, will easily be in line by Wednesday, the last day when the track will be open to contestants prior to the race.

Like the men which he built up, Burman has added to the record Grand-prix race countline fully as much himself and fully as distinct as the drivers', and performance of the exists of the other two great three nations of America and Mexico, with the Indians, with the A. D. slighted idea of themselves, which

Burman's Great Mark.

The run of Bob Burman, in his green Special, was looked forward to with particular interest, on account of the sensational fact that he recied off yesterday, when he circled the course in 1:37.45, at a speed better than ninety-three miles an hour. This is by far the fastest time ever turned up on the speedway or anywhere else, save on the Brooklands track, in a 40-inch car. It is a wonderful tribute to Burman's ability, both as a car designer and racing pilot, inasmuch as Bob built practically the whole machine himself. In his qualification attempt today Burman expected to go even faster than that, with the idea of equaling or breaking the official track record of 1:36.7 made in 1911 by Wilcox at the 40-inch National.

The Joe Dibrow, which was kept off the course yesterday when the A.A.A. judges failed to show, was likewise scheduled to be sent after the record tomorrow. This gigantic machine, of 200+ horsepower, did an unofficial lap in 1910, a couple of years ago. With Dibrow at the wheel it will attempt to equal or better the mark.

Other machines which will qualify without trouble, as evidenced by their good runs yesterday, are the Stutzes, the Nylas, the Masons, Sunbeam, Gray Fox, Stevens, Kline, Schacht, the Merces, the Ford and the Case cars. The Henders, the Mercedes and Stearns Knights, Curtis and DeTal are expected to qualify later, as soon as they can be got in shape to do their best. At present they are still either being tuned up, or else have not yet arrived. The entire field, it is estimated, will finally be in line by Wednesday the last day when the track will be open to contestants prior to the race.

Carmen's Great Mark.

Tommy Hageman, in his green and black Ford, started to with particular interest on account of the sensational race he staged off yesterday. He covered the course in 1:37.6, at a speed of more than thirty-three miles an hour, which is by far the fastest time ever run up on the speedway or anywhere else on the Brooklands track, in a stock car. It is a wonderment to Carmen's ability, both as a driver and racing pilot. In fact he built practically the whole track himself. In his qualification attempt, Carmen expected to go even faster, with the idea of equaling the official track record made in 1911 by Wilcox at the Indianapolis National.
