FRENCH WINNERS LAUGH AT LOSING TEAMMATE

ZUCCARELLI.

GOUX.

BEGIN.

Few standing around the winning Frenchmen after the big race, yesterday, knew what Goux and his mechanic, Emile Begin, were saying to Zuccarelli, another member of the French team, whose car, the Peugeot No. 15, was withdrawn from the race in the twenty-first lap. It was said a clogged gasoline feed was responsible. Zuccarelli, during the balance of the race, watched his fellow-countryman win the laurels, and when it was all over there was a great "kidding" match in French, in which Goux and Begin seemed to have the best of it. They laughed and joked at Zuccarelli's expense, while the big Frenchman made every effort to retaliate.
