BASEBALL LOSES A GREAT GENERAL

FIELDER ALANSON JONES HAS DECIDED TO QUIT THE BIG GAME AND DEVOTE HIMSELF TO HIS LUMBER INTERESTS.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—The resignation of Fielder Alanson Jones, as manager of the St. Louis Browns, to devote himself to his lumber interests at his home in Portland, Ore., removes from baseball one of the smartest players to the game, according to baseball men. He has had a brilliant career, having won an American league pennant and a world's series championship while manager of the Chicago White Sox in 1906.

As manager of the St. Louis Federal league team in 1915 he came within 1-1000 of a point of giving St. Louis its only championship pennant since 1888. But it was his work with the Chicago White Sox that put him in the front rank as a manager. With a dash over the top he led the Sox from the second division for nineteen straight victories, trampled down all opposition, bagged the American league pennant and then crushed the great Cub machine and won the world's championship.

The Cubs by winning 118 games that season had started the baseball world. It was said the machine could not be beaten but Fielder Jones did the unexpected just as in 1914 George Stallings led the Boston Braves for a grand sweep from the lowest in the standing to pennant winners and finally championship of the world, over Connie Mack's supposedly invincible Athletics.

Jones assumed the management of the White Sox on June 5, 1904, succeeding Jimmy Callahan. He resigned at the close of the 1908 season, never having finished out of the first division. He was third in 1904, second in 1905, first in 1906, third in 1907 and 1908 to Aug. 22, 1914. Jones was out of baseball, devoting all his time to his lumber interests in Oregon. It is said that he amassed a fortune. In 1914 Phil Ball and Otto Steifel persuaded Jones to come to St. Louis and take up the direction of the St. Louis Federals (Terriers).

Succeeded Brown. He succeeded Nordecal (Miner) Brown, as manager. With the team acquired from the former manager he finished in eighth place. In 1915, however, he was defeated for the federal pennant by only 1-1000 of a point, when George Stovall, who at one time was manager of the St. Louis Browns, and who managed the Kansas City team in the Federal league, beat him in the final game of the season.

In 1916, after the "peace agreement" had been signed by the Federals and organized baseball, and Ball and his associates purchased the Browns and amalgamated the teams, Jones was made manager, supplanting French Rickety, present president of the Cardinals, who was made business manager. In 1918 the Browns finished in fifth place, the first time that Jones had ever finished out of first division when he had had charge of a team during the entire season.

ATHLETICS CONTINUE IN CAMPS IN FRANCE

WALLACE NELSON OF RACINE TELLS OF MEMORIAL DAY SPORTS IN THE TRENCHES ON WEST FRONT.

Christ Nelson has received a letter from Wallace Nelson, who is now with the ordnance department in France. Wallace states that sportswomen are not being restricted in their activities. He closed a program of athletic events that were held on a holiday afternoon.

The program shows clearly that our national game, baseball, is very popular and promises to be the national game of other countries now at war. One game was played between the crack army team and the champions of the navy. Another was played between two colored regiments. Volley ball is also played but it does not receive the prominence that baseball does.

Boxing is also a very entertaining and popular sport for the boys. The program shows that a bout had been arranged between Franking and McKeever, champion of the navy.

The results of these matches have not been obtained but it is obvious that even if sports do suffer in this country because of the war, that it is not going to be the case with the fellows over there.

The following field events seem to be well liked: shotput, running high jump, running broad jump, and the hand grenade throwing. Of course the usual 100, 200 and 400 yard dashes were placed in the contests for no program of athletics would be complete without them.

SELECT BALTIMORE FOR JULY 4 SCRAP

CHIP WILL DO HIS TRAINING IN CHICAGO FOR HIS 10-ROUND BOUT WITH EDDIE MCGOORTY HERE TUESDAY.

Baltimore will be the scene of the battle between those two mammoth mitt swingers, Frederick Fulton, the ferocious fiery fighter from Minnesota and Jack Dempsey, the human submarine who has been sinking them with regularity during the last few months. Joseph Mulvihill, who attempted to promote the engagement between these two maulers at Danbury, Conn., announced on Tuesday that the skit has been transferred to the Maryland town and will be for fifteen rounds, although the scrap is not expected to last that long.

Attorney Ray Cannon, who is handling Dempsey's end of the argument in the former's legal battle with John the blade welder Reiser, announced on Tuesday that Jack Kearns, present pilot of Jack, has informed him that he and his prototype would arrive in Baltimore Wednesday morning. They were expected there on Tuesday but Dempsey could not get away from Chicago for some reason or other. He will remain in Milwaukee Wednesday morning, going from there to the Great Lakes Naval Training station, where he will referee the scraps between the Jackies in the afternoon.

Kearns, according to Cannon, believes Baltimore will be an ideal site for the big attraction capacity crowd there. Of course the fans might raise a kick about the affair, but boxing is legal in Baltimore and it is not likely the city and state officials will attempt to interfere with the conducting of the bout. If the fans favor the event they might expect to see the muddle in the heavyweight division cleared up on Independence day.

George Chip, the Newcastle, Pa., miller who do his training in Chicago for his ten round scrap with Eddie McGoorty in the local ring next Tuesday night, Chip reached the city of the wind on Tuesday and immediately visited Kid Howard's gym where he made arrangements to go through a series of boxing stunts starting today. McGoorty is ready to enter the arena at a moment's notice. The Sawdust city star has been working overtime at Camp Grant, where he is learning the tricks on how to fight the Heavyweight. He is boxing daily and recently engaged in the boxing tournament between pugs from Custer and Grant, winning his bout by a knockout.

The Chip-McGoorty tilt will not be the only star attraction on Uncle John's card. Sailor Freedman, the flashy lightweight from Chicago is booked to go ten rounds with Charley Scully the beanpole in the semi-wind-up. It will be a bout for the money all for one price of admission. In addition two prelims will be staged, involving a pair of Racine boys in the opener while a couple of Chicago mixers will probably square off in the second event.

LOSES FIGHT; ATTACKS REFEREE; COUNTED OUT. NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—Frankie Brown of New York couldn't win his fight with Kid Koster, New Orleans lightweight, so he picked on the referee. The referee happened to be Sammy Goldman, something of a fighter himself, and Brown went down and out from a fight to the chin. Brown and Koster fought twenty rounds. Koster earned the decision. Koster scored a knockdown in the second round, and Brown claimed a foul. The referee refused to allow the claim and ordered the fight to proceed. This aroused Brown's ire and he attacked the referee after the bout, with disastrous results—for himself.

CLEVELAND.—Pitcher Kester I. June of the University of West Virginia reported to the Cleveland American league team today. The Pittsburgh Nationals had a claim to his services, but Cleveland satisfied by releasing Outfielder Howard Lohr to Pittsburgh.
