TRANSPORT-MEYER TALKED OFF... PROVED THAT ENLARGING LAVER... DAY WAS NOT ABOLISHED AT A... MEETING, AS REPORTED.

By A. D. KLING. Sol Meyer, treasurer of the Indianapolis Athletic Association, which controls the Indianapolis baseball club, returned from Chicago yesterday with the news that the club would start building operations...

No change in bleachers planned. They were just about big enough to accommodate the crowd today, and they are practically new. It is expected that they will take care of the crowd next year. The plan, when it is made, will be to have a seating capacity of 15,000 people.

There was no definite action taken on the invitation of Mayor Harrison to let the members of the association discuss the plan to let the club build a new grandstand and bleachers. The plan is to have a seating capacity of 15,000 people.

There was absolutely no talk favorable to let the members of the association discuss the plan to let the club build a new grandstand and bleachers. The plan is to have a seating capacity of 15,000 people.

Distance in :52 1-5.

STODDARD-DAYTON SHINES

Fisher's Car Beats Paul Smith's
Haynes in Match Event for Big Side Bet.

The speed demon was appeased yesterday afternoon at the Fair Grounds when Christie topped off a melodramatic program by sending his "Record Breaker," that satanic space-eating monster of his own creation, around the one mile track in the weird time of 52 and 1-5 seconds, creating a new state record and taking down the $500 purse offered for the fastest mile made in the two days' meet.

Barney Oldfield won the final heat and the sweepstakes event from Soules and Christie by defeating the latter in a spectacular two-mile struggle by a whisker. The time was 2 minutes and 3 seconds flat. The two great auto-crafts came whizzing, lurching down the final stretch at a speed too fast for an ordinary mortal to conceive, Oldfield in his Stearns slightly in the lead.

Just at the wire Christie's fiendish creation leaped forward, seemingly completely off the ground, the engines belching forth streams of fire, and the exhaust snapping angrily, like a gatling gun, as if chafing at the very thought of defeat.

Stoddard-Daytons Shine.

But the work of the trio of men deluded in the mad desire for speed, more speed and more speed yet, was only part of a program of auto races, the best ever given in Hoosierdom and full of events that brought the large crowd of women and men in the grand stand to their toes in delirious excitement.

Outside of the work of the professionals the meet proved a big show for the Stoddard-Daytons, just as on Friday it was an exhibition for the Buick. The Dayton, O., product won practically every event in which it was entered, and not only displayed magnificent speed, reeling off a mile in the minute mark, but also brought to light a daring young driver who may some time help to fill the shoes of the present day speed maniacs.

That youngster was Charles Merz, the son of an Indianapolis policeman, who brought glory to himself, his machine and
