 FLOUR $3. PER SACK

Speculators and the war continue to push the prices of edibles up and still up again. Flour in Oelwein was $2.55 per sack Wednesday and $2.45 Thursday. Flour is selling in Minneapolis at $3.00 per sack. Never in the history of the country since the days of Lincoln has such a high price started the people in the face. At the present rate of boosting prices the price of flour will reach $4 per sack before spring. Talk about the high prices in England, we can go there one better, for it is a fact, judging by the English papers, that flour can be purchased cheaper in London than in New York.

The reason for this is obvious. Speculators in this country amass their millions while the common people foot the bill. It is fully within the province of the administration to place an embargo on certain food products—this may be complete or partial. The amount of wheat and flour that may be exported may be limited to a certain amount. That would mean that the prices in this country would drop to within speaking distance of normal.

While nothing official has been received from the king of Rumania it is highly probable that he is feeling similar to the parrot owned by the pious woman who scalded the bird after it had indulged in an extra string of profanity. The remark of the parrot is historic: "Sorry I spoke." The small nations of Europe from Belgium to Rumania that have been involved into the war by the big ones are doubtless sorry they have not remained out of the big muss. The big nations belligerent may reap some returns for the millions of lives lost and the billions of money expended, but the small nations will continue to get it in the neck. All of which demonstrates that it is not well for men or little nations to allow the bigger ones to "sit" 'em on.

As coming events cast their shadows before, and especially that Harding will be elected by a handsome majority. The Des Moines Register seems to be getting hotter and hotter under the collar. And it announced, sub rosa, that they have a specially loaded mud battery that will be unlimbered the latter part of next week. While the old "Iowa State Register" was wont to dictate the politics of the state its successor is unable to pull off that stunt.

The announcement that Des Moines will heat its street cars with hot air is not at all surprising. For the past sixty days there has been more hot air in the Capital City than in all the rest of the state taken together. And the streams of hot air from one of its newspapers has spread to different parts of the commonwealth. But said superheated atmosphere will have congealed by November 7 and become of no effect.

Frank Gotch is persona non grata to the trio of dailies that have bolted Harding and are whooping it up for Meredith for sundry and divers reasons other than the temperance issue. Frank Gotch has always landed on top in the various mad contests in which he has been stated and he will line up with the winners in the Iowa political mad go that is staged for November 7th.

Taken all in all the present presidential campaign is the most peculiar in the history of the quadrennial roundups. Of course we did not expect anything like the rah, rah of twenty years ago nor of the excitement of four years ago, but it was thought probable that there would be a little ginger injected into the campaign.

If you do not register and thus lose your vote November 7 there are some of us who will indulge in "I told you so." Oelwein is the only burg in Fayette county where registration is required. If Oelwein is to cast one-fourth of the votes of the county, as the population the voters must see their names written on the list.

It is safe to assert that Vermont will go republican this year. It has the distinction of being the only state in the U. S. A. that has cast its electoral vote for the republican nominee at every election for more than a third of a century, including 1912.

HOUSEWARMING, OCTOBER 31

OELWEIN ASTONISHED BY SIMPLE MIXTURE
 Oelwein people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach, or gas. Because Adler-I-ka acts on BOTH lower and upper bowels, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble.—Geo. W. Deakensberg, druggist.

EVERYONE IS A MASTER BUILDER

BUILD STRONG

Tuberculosis claimed one thousand three hundred and thirty-four known victims in Iowa during 1915, while nearly twice that number of persons died of pneumonia and other respiratory diseases. Does the registered unnecessary loss of a thousand lives in Iowa arouse as much interest in your mind as the loss of a thousand lives when a lake steamer turned turtle on a bright July morning? Both losses might have been prevented. Is there really any less community shame attached to one than to the other?

In many ways the all-the-year-around death by disease is more disgraceful for it continues year after year, its own reproducer, doing its own follow-up work. Each death leaving in its wake three infected persons to suffer unknown for a long time, possibly not learning their own danger until too late. Can Iowa afford to record more than a thousand preventable deaths each year? According to estimates made by those who have studied the conditions there are now at least fifteen thousand tuberculosis people in Iowa and thousands of lives may be saved by state-wide effort.

We know that it will take not a single investigation or ruling to control this disease, but as in the case of the steamers on rivers, lakes, or high seas, there must be building regulations, inspection and follow-up work to insure safety for ourselves and our people. The building regulations against this disease are those which provide for the healthy development of the child, the healthy working and living conditions of the adult, sanitary provisions by federal, state and community authorities; and especially the intelligent persistence of each man, woman and child in following personal health rules, day and night, week in and week out.

AURORA NEWS

The ladies of the Methodist church will have a reception Tuesday evening, Oct. 24 for the benefit of their new minister, Mr. Heiserman. A program in the church is to be followed by a supper at their dining hall.

The out of town relatives that attended the funeral of William Knaapp were: Mr. and Mrs. Kilborn, of Harrisville, N. Y.; a brother of Mrs. Knaapp and her sister, Mrs. Johnson, of Oswego, N. Y. The nephew and niece were Mrs. John Wilder, Grinnell, Ia.; Mrs. Clifton Doff and daughter, of Colfax, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose and Wm. Rose, of Rockwell City, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Knaapp of Stanley, Iowa.

Russell Miller met with an accident going home from town Wednesday evening when his car upset in the ditch, pinning him under the steering wheel. No serious injuries were sustained.

Mrs. John McLaury entertained a company of ladies for dinner last Wednesday in honor of Miss Mabel Westcott's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Flickinger attended the dedication of the Masonic Temple at New Hampton.

Another pioneer gone. Wm. Knapp died at his home Wednesday evening. Mr. Knapp was taken down some weeks ago with a bad attack of asthma, which was complicated with heart trouble, and before he had fully recovered an attack of pleurisy battered down the weakened constitution and resulted in his death. The funeral services were held Sunday at the M. E. church.

E. A. Horsefield was a business caller in Arlington Thursday.

L. E. Knapp was a caller in Oelwein on Friday.

Wayne Jewell assistant signal maintainer is laid up this week with a sprained ankle.

Harry Hamilton went to Chicago last week, where he has a position as claim adjuster in the Montgomery Ward stores.

Mrs. Sawyer has gone to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Neva Wallace, of Schaller.

Geo. Rouse and wife are enjoying an auto trip through Illinois visiting old friends and relatives.

The people of Aurora are more than pleased with their electric lights. Five electroliers placed down the center of the business street and each carrying five 40 watt lamps make the streets a god light. The balance of the town is lighted by means of 40 watt lamps placed at each street intersection.

SCOTT CENTER SHOTS

Everybody is getting ready for winter making sauerkraut and hauling coal, etc.

The Ladies of the Larkin Club met with Mrs. Harry Jellings last Thursday and a contest was given which Mrs. Gusta Lincoln was the winner and Mrs. Roger's friend received the booby prize.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL FET

Vivian Ladwig was absent Monday on account of sickness.

We are going to have a debate on Friday to decide which is the more useful to mankind railroads or steam ships. Buel German, Frank Bond and Bertram Schaller are on the affirmative and Gerald Kint, Roy Benzar and Oliver Plush are on the negative.

We are beginning to practice for the annual Grammar School program to be given in the H. S. Auditorium.

All the rooms are well fitted with plants and pictures. Come and see them.

We have to have a good Halloween story to publish next week.

Paul Hyson, from Oklahoma, is a new pupil.

All pupils who had not been absent the past six weeks were given a quarter of a day holiday last Friday.

Arrangements have not yet been completed for a game Saturday but we expect to play Stanley on our own grounds or in the gymnasium if the weather is inclement.

Mrs. Barnes supplied for Miss Corbin Wednesday of this week.

TERSE TOWN TALES

Even the city telephone company has its troubles and one of them is the migratory character of some of its patrons. It is learned that one of its patrons has moved thirteen times in the past five years, and of course the terminal facilities for that family were moved that number of times. One family had moved three times the present year—the last time two weeks ago. Not getting a response from the Lorie of the family this week the line man went to the house only to find it vacant. The neighbors informed the 'phone man that the family had flitted to Chicago.

But they didn't take the 'phone contraction with them. The families in Oelwein, that have resided in one house for the past twelve or fourteen years are not so numerous as you might suppose.

The patrons of the city gas company have had their troubles for the past six months and they still continue. It was presumed that when the new US Gas "bench" was installed the troubles would end. But not so. The business man who has not been called up on the phone and informed that the gas has quit again is a rare avis. He has sworn softly to himself and gone to a restaurant. The "off ag'in, on ag'in, goin' ag'in" of the gas has had a distinct tendency to lower the tone of piety in many Hub City homes. The city council has directed the city attorney to get out papers to mandamus the plant to do business. Dam is a word often employed in reference to the situation. It is said that further improvements are contemplated in the sweet bye and bye. And the response from many a home is: "So mote it be."

RESTA'S RECORD IS A THRILLER

New York, Oct. 26. --Dario Resta, Italian driver who has hogged American auto track records and stuck his fingers into the prize money of every country where they tear around tracks in high-powered automobiles, is just taking a breathing spell.

Resta, says he is getting a shamed to take the money and has promised not to enter EVERY event in the future. He's going to skip a few to give the other boys a chance.

back in 1915 when he hit the high spots in New York. Prior to that he had done a few fancy tricks for the natives in France, Italy and England, and when he hove in view of the Statue of Liberty he was well fortified with a bank roll even if he hadn't scatted records on this side.

From Italy Resta snorted histrionically way into England and he immovability in three of England's highest class events. That was in Mercedes, but he forsook his colors to climb a Sunbeam. This had no effect on his neck-breaking speed, for he went right on smashing records and won the Grand Prix at Antwerp, just before the present European war broke out.

In 1915 he again began to dream of American gold and hid himself back to the shores of the land of plenty peace and gold. He was in New York just a week and then he beat it for San Francisco, where he proceeded to win two events right in succession the Vanderbilt cup and the grand prize, something unheard of up to that time.

Then he went to Indianapolis and engaged in one of the fiercest automobile races ever run and forced De Palma, another Italian, to the very limit to win. At Chicago he won the 500-mile event and established a new record.

Then they pulled off a challenge race at Chicago and Resta again nailed his colors to the mast first.

This year has just been one victory after another, including the big events at Chicago and Indianapolis.

In a championship series of races at Chicago De Palma was beaten in every event by the speedy Italian.

Obituary Alfred F. McMasters.
 Alfred F. McMasters was born August 29, 1845 and died October 18, 1916, aged 71 years, 1 month and 20 days. He was reared on a farm near Garden Prairie, Boone county, Illinois. The pursuit of agriculture has ever been the chosen vocation of his life. He was a lover of domestic animals and the care of them was his delight. He owned a farm of 400 acres upon which he died. In the parental home, he was one of seven children; five sisters and two brothers. In 1867 at the age of 22 years he married Miss Emily J. Cronk. Four children were born to this union; Will, Lucy, George and Nellie. The wife and mother of this family was called to cross the dark river and she passed over December 4, 1887. On July 9, 1894 Lucy followed her mother to the great beyond whither the last earthly parent has just journeyed to meet his lived ones gone before. While yet in early manhood he took his young wife and first baby to the golden shores of far away California, where he remained a few years and where two of his children, Lucy and George were born. While his children were yet small he came back to Illinois and later removed to his farm in Harlan township, Fayette county, Iowa, where he resided until 1900, when he sold out and came to Maynard to live in his present home, where he died. The subject of this sketch was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth M. Smith with whom he has lived in the most happy relations she a true and faithful wife and he a kind and loving husband, a partnership that only death could dissolve. He was a man of many sterling qualities, upright in a deal, a good neighbor, true to his friends and an honorable citizen. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges of his home town and will be missed in the community where he has lived so long and so peaceably. The inherent kindness of his nature will live in the memory of those who know him best. He rests from his suffering. The funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the opera house conducted by Rev. Purley Jennison and all that was mortal of Mr. McMasters was laid to rest in Long Grove Cemetery.

Arthur Benson and family moved last Thursday to their new home in Oelwein.

Mrs. Fordyce and two daughters came down from Randallia Thursday and spent the day with their cousin, Mrs. J. D. Bing.

Orange Paul has bills out announcing a public sale, October 26, on his farm five miles east of town. He will move this fall to Fayette where he has purchased a home. His farm will be occupied by his son-in-law, Burr Buck, who now resides in Maynard.

Fred Gremmel, who recently purchased the Benson farm, is enlarging the hog house and making a cement floor in same.

Mrs. Whitney and daughter, Miss Mintha, returned Tuesday from Westgate, where they visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Fox.

Mrs. Arnold Hura returned Saturday from a trip to the western part of the state. She attended the W. C. T. U. convention at Fort Dodge and visited relatives in Storm Lake, Newell and Des Moines.

Will McMasters, who was called here by the illness and death of his father, A. F. McMasters, returned on Monday to his home in Belvidere, Ill.

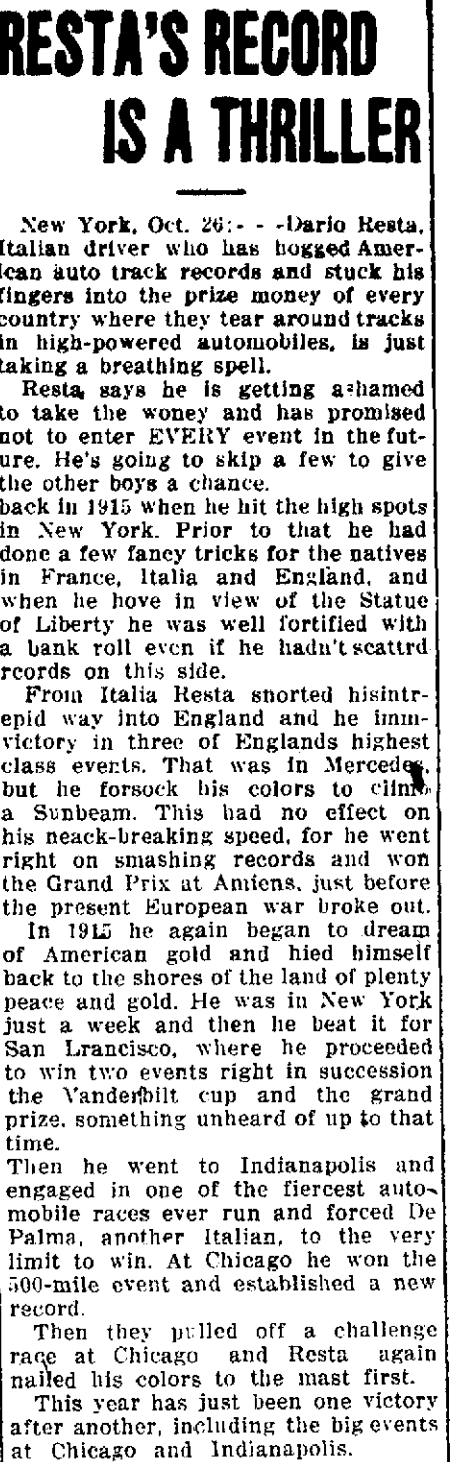

Floyd Davis and Miss Rachel Clarno returned Friday to their home in Orangeville, Ill., after spending a few days with their cousins in the Walter and Foss home.
