Joe Dawson Smashes the Lap Record

He Sends Yellow Marmon Around the Speedway at Average Speed of Nearly Ninety-Four Miles an Hour and Circles Course in 1:36 2-5.

LOCAL BOY IS NOT INJURED ALTHOUGH CAR HITS FENCE

Accident Resulting From Burst Tire Alarms Spectators, but Dawson Only Smiles and Says It Was Nothing to Worry Over.

BY R. M. BLANKENBAKER. TOE DAWSON smashed the lap record on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway yesterday afternoon. He slowed down ready to leave the track, but the gate happened to be closed, so Joe started another lap in order to keep from turning around or backing up. On that lap he became the principal figure in the first accident at the local course this year. No one was hurt in the mis

When Dawson took the track with his rejuvenated little Marmon he began to "beat it." Lap after lap was reeled off at increasing speed. He was caught at 1:40 and made the next lap in 1:39. For several trips he seesawed about this mark. Then notice. Those who held stop watches became very attentive.

Speed is Terrific,

Then a man in the pits caught Joe in 137. A murmur of surprise and doubt was heard, but comparison between two "clockers" proved that the local boy had equaled the track record. The yellow Marmon came hurtling down the stretch and went into the southwest turn a tull tilt. When the little car roared across John Graham of Scotland Wins the tape three timers snapped their

"Pshaw' It isn't anything to make I just blew a tire, that's all This car is suite a bear—I'm glad I broke I think we drove that fast lap at nearly the highest speed possible to make and stay on the track

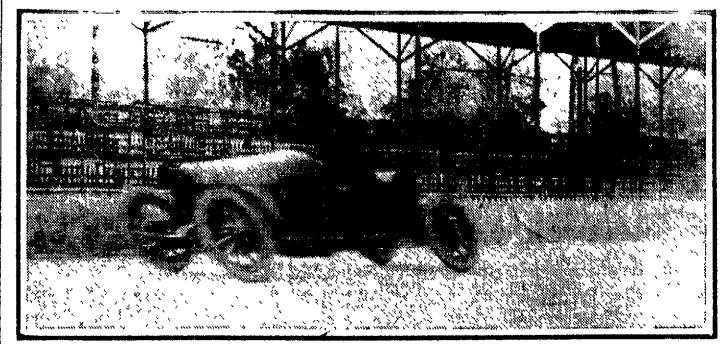

Some New Arrivals.

Hairy Grant surprised the crowd by appearing at the course in his Sunbeam. Grant drove two laps, but tried no speed work. Caleb Biagg, the third Mercer pilot, also arrived Barney Oldfield entertained the rail birds with some speedy work in his Stutz and others practiced out The speed king is cutting his practice short this year. "When I get my cars right, I'll quit driving them until the race," declared Burman. "There's no use of me getting out and burning up three and taking chance of breaking something after my cars are right. I know the track. Another thing, there isn't a piece of junk out here this year. They all look mighty good to me"

School Boys in Athletic Clash Today

Youthful Athletes From Nearly 40 Cities and Towns Match Speed and Stamina at Crawfordsville -Indianapolis Boys Are Feared by Contenders.

AMO LOOKS FOR ONE BOY TO UPHOLD TOWN'S NAME

Young Brown Will Be Single Handed Against Great Field-Lesson of True Sportsmanship in Meet Greater Than Triumphs.

Sporting Editor Indianapolis Star. C RAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., May 15 .- Crawfordsville's latchstring is out for the athletes, and the athletic authorities at Wabash College are ready to run off the events in the annual track and field meet of the Indiana High School Athletic Association tomorrow afternoon. The meet brings together more than 175 young competitors and possibly 100 more trainers, coaches and camp followers. In all some forty high schools from all over the state will be représented in the games that will determine which city or town has the best clean-limbed and clean-living youths.

Shortridge High School, Indianapolis, Fairmount Academies came next with ten apiece Then follow Burnett's Creek, to seven all the way down until the wee place but one lad-Brown by name-is coming to see how far he can carry the his school against the many with whom he will be forced to compete. Young Brown hardly can hope to win the state championship for he is entered in but three events-the running high jump, the pole vault and the broad jump. One must applaud the voungster' spunk however, no matter where or how ie finishes, for it is no small task alone and unbefriended to fight such a battle as he will be forced to tight In Crawfordsville tonight there is an undercurrent of feeling that Manual and Shortridge of indianapolis will have the strongest teams and will be the ones with which all the others will be forced to contend to win the championship. Wingate has been known always to furnish surprisingly good young athletes for these But it is not so much the contest as the educational side of the con-ing events that attracts the attention of the thinker

Lesson for Every Boy. Aside from the mere honor and glory of winning there are other lessons which inculcated into the youth of the state They learn first of all to 'play the games like gentlemen', secondly to strive thelr best to win but in losing to learn of theh own weaknesses and profit by defeat as much, if not more, than they would had had they won

It is something new in education, this thing of fitting the vouth of the hand through athletic contests for the battle of takes clean living and straigh thinking to win in the big world, and possibly this is as good a method as any vet devised to teach that lesson to the lads before they have passed out of the Be that all as it may, fomor rows will be a great spectacle not alone of he the fittest who survives, but of battling gamely against odds to win recognition. And in all the list of those who are entered none stands higher nov than Brown of Amo May be display or age and determination which carry him here
