SONOMA GIRL WILL BE SENT AGAINST RECORD

California Trotting Queen Expected to Break World's Mark for Mile Without a Wind Shield.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 2.—"I have every confidence that Sonoma Girl can beat every trotter in the world, and next year I look for her to break the world's record for the mile without a wind shield, held now by you Dillon at 2:01. She will go back to the Grand Circuit next season, and it is my firm belief, based on my experience with her in other races in the East last season, that there is not a piece of horseflesh in existence that can beat her in a trotting race."

Capt. J. D. Springer, formerly owner of Sonoma Girl and veteran driver, made this statement here recently, and his earnestness is no doubt of his belief in the ability of the great mare to perform up to his expectations. Springer says that the rumor that he sold Sonoma Girl because he believed that she was going stale was false. He was offered the price for her that he thought was fair one, and he accepted. He declares there is no foundation for the story that she falls in the harness.

Although Capt. Springer did not take her through the entire season on the Grand Circuit, as he intended when he left Los Angeles last summer as the result of which he received the sum of $25,000 for her, the sum of $25,000 was the price that he was to have received when she was sold to the late owner of the horse, who had a hand in the purchase of the mare. The original purchase price of the mare was $25,000, and she was sold to the late owner for $25,000.
