WAGERS OF $10,000 ON VANDERBILT CUP CAR

HENRY B. HARRIS IS BACKING SIMPLEX HEAVILY.

VANDERBILT HAS ACCIDENT

NEW YORK, October 28.—Henry B Harris, the theatrical manager, who has entered his fifty-horse power Simplex in Saturday's Vanderbilt cup race, has declared that he stands ready to spend $10,000 to win in the contest. He has engaged L. A. Mitchell, considered one of the nerviest drivers in America, and Mitchell is fairly burning up the course in his trials.

Harris also has wagered $10,000 on the result of the race in various sums of from $1 to $1,000. He bet Al Hayman $500 to $1 that his car would start and wagered $50 against $100 with Willie Collier that no tires would have to be replaced. Another bet he placed is that his car will beat the record, and still another is that it will not meet with any accident.

Vanderbilt Has Accident.

While traveling at the rate of fifty miles an hour yesterday around a turn on his automobile cup course a tire burst on a front wheel of a car William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was piloting. Only by exerting his expert skill did he succeed in preventing the machine from leaping into a ditch and turning over.

Afterward Vanderbilt entertained the newspaper men and officials at breakfast at the Garden City hotel. The contestants will draw tonight for positions of their start, after which the racing crews will receive their final instructions from Mr. Vanderbilt, who is referee; Manager A.

The contestants will draw tonight for positions of their start, after which the racing crews will receive their final instructions from Mr. Vanderbilt, who is referee; Manager A. R. Pardington and starter F. J. Wagner.

There are now seventeen entries for the race, James B. Ryall having entered a Mercedes. It is hoped that George Robertson, who won last year, may again drive a car. He was on the ground today.
