

MOTOR RACES BROUGHT UNUSUAL ACTIVITY

CITY'S STREETS AND SHOPS FILLED WITH STRANGERS.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS OF WEEK

The interest of the week centered in the motor races and thousands of persons came from all over the country, so that the streets and shops were filled with strangers. It was a week when one had the opportunity to keep an open house for the visitors, and it was also a time when any one might become acquainted with the thousand and one different kinds of costumes that motorists wear. The women were swathed in veils of every tint. One clever woman put her veil over a simple hat trimmed with ribbon and then fastened the veil securely at either side of the crown with clusters of flowers. The effect was becoming both to the woman and the hat, and did not look so flatly tied down as most of them do. If there is one thing that must be fast to the wearer it is her head arrangement, whether it be hair or hat, and this gives occasion to the wearing of veils. The women at the races, with all the colors they wore and carried, helped materially in the picture side of the affair and the floating veils and the Japanese parasols added an element of brightness that had they been lacking.

Miss Bailey Sa
York for ten day

Dr. and Mrs. R.
from northern W

George G. Rube weeks' tour of t

Mrs. Harriet A.
nona-Lake to stay

Miss Edna Gold
a three weeks' vi

Mr. and Mrs. V Winona today to

Mrs. H. Chapm
Lake Maxinkucke

Mrs. William C
gone to Chicago

Dr. C. L. Armin
merly of this city

J. P. Durham l
Samuel E. Watson

Mrs. Estelie P.
Europe to spend

Miss Hanna Qu
cago to spend a fe

Malcolm Moore
ga and Lookout

visit.

Mr. and Mrs. O turned from a t the east.

Miss Mary Layc
fort, where she

Julia Dillen.

Miss Florence turned from a ho ers Lake, Wis.

Mrs. Samuel Dr
Jeannette have l northern lakes.

Mrs. Pearce B Ky., who visited has returned hom

Miss Myra Mo is visiting her co in Randolph stre

Mr. and Mrs. daughter have

ED NOSE