TRIES TO TEAR DOWN STORY

Bitter Argument Over Admissibility of Hummel Testimony.

NEW YORK, March 13.—After a four-day session, occupied almost entirely by District Attorney Jerome in a bitter denunciation of the defendant and his wife, the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White was adjourned this morning. Mr. Thaw and his wife, Evelyn, were permitted to return to their hotel after a short stay in the city.

Mr. Thaw and his wife, Evelyn, were permitted to return to their hotel after a short stay in the city. The prosecution, however, was not permitted to return to their hotel after a short stay in the city.

FARMER KILLED BY BOLT DURING STORM

Lightning Burns Way Through Man's Body, Tearing Off His Shoes and Felling Brother.

RAINSTORM, SWEEPS INDIANA

Cloudbursts and Wind Leave Trail of Devastation.

MONTICELLO, Ind., March 13.—While traveling along a country road, Lewis F. F. F., a prominent farmer of this county, was struck by lightning about 10 o'clock this afternoon and instantly killed. He and his brother, Ed F., were returning home in a wagon at the time of the occurrence.

Both were standing up in the wagon, Ed driving and Lewis standing behind him with his hands on his shoulders. A vivid flash of lightning illuminated the sky and Lewis fell dead. The horses hitched to the wagon were stunned and a team which they were driving in the rear was also shocked.

Ed, the driver, was prostrated by the bolt, but soon recovered sufficiently to hitch the team and make his way to neighboring farmhouses. The body of his brother was carried to the house, where it was found that the bolt had apparently entered his head, and traveling the full length of his body had passed out through his feet, tearing off his shoes and the greater part of his clothing. He was probably never conscious of the shock. The unfortunate man was about 40 years old and leaves a wife and one child.

Deputy Prosecutor, It is Said, Will at Least Be Less Active for State.

It developed yesterday that James M. McCullough, chief deputy prosecuting attorney, will not in the future devote as much of his time to the duties of the office as he has since the first of the year. He may entirely sever his connection with the office.

While Prosecutor Elliott R. Hooton would not discuss this phase of the situation yesterday, it is understood that Mr. McCullough's engagement as chief deputy was only for two months. It was suggested that Mr. Hooton, a comparatively young man and socially unimpeachable, was the process of the office, had selected Mr. McCullough to put him through the first few weeks of the term.

The general sentiment in Wa-however, was pessimistic, even the question of the admissibility of the testimony which Abraham Hummel, the lawyer, who is under indictment for subornation of perjury in the Dodge-Morse divorce case, has to offer. It was to enable Delphin M. Delmas, leading counsel for the defense, to consult authorities and frame a reply to Mr. Jerome and also to allow the latter an opportunity of completing the hypothetical question which he is to put to his experts that the early adjournment was ordered.

Mr. Jerome said he hopes to close the rebuttal for the people tomorrow evening.

During his argument today the district attorney took on for the first time since the case began a sustained oratorical tone. He asserted that Hummel would swear Evelyn Nesbit told him three days after her return from Europe in 1903 that Thaw had beaten her cruelly because she would not sign papers he had prepared falsely accusing Stanford White of having drugged and betrayed her. Mr. Jerome contended that she had told much more, that Thaw seemed bent on putting Stanford White in the penitentiary, that the statement that White had betrayed her was not true, that Stanford White had never harmed her and that Thaw was consumed with rage when she refused to sign and swear to papers containing "lies against Stanford White."

Knew What She Was Signing.

"These things were put in the form of an affidavit," declared Mr. Jerome, "and that affidavit was subscribed to by Evelyn Nesbit when she knew what she was doing and what the paper contained."

"We want to show that the girl who told this remarkable story here on the witness stand swore at another time, under the solemnity of an oath, that naked—stripped absolutely naked—she had endured the lashings and beatings of this defendant rather than swear to his false statements that Stanford White had drugged and ruined her."

Mr. Jerome argued that the material point of the case is whether or not Evelyn Nesbit told Thaw the story of her alleged ruin by Stanford White. Without that story in evidence, he declared, the reason for the defendant's alleged insanity disappears. The prosecutor plainly admitted the importance of young Mrs. Thaw's testimony, and he said he wished by Hummel's testimony to show her own repudiation of the charges which on the witness stand she renewed against white.

"Thus," he concluded, "the jury may infer from her own statements after her return from Europe in 1903 whether or not she had within two months of that time told this defendant the things she said she did."

Important Point Involved.

Mr. Delmas objected to Hummel as a witness on the ground that his testimony had to do with the truth or falsity of Mrs. Thaw's narration and was not permissible under the rules of evidence. He will proceed with his argument tomorrow.

Mr. Jerome's contention is that while he may not attack the truth or falsity of Mrs. Thaw's statement that she was betrayed by White, he can attack the truth of her assertion that she told the story to Thaw at the time she says she did.

Mr. Delmas sought today to interrupt Hummel's testimony by showing that he was acting as Evelyn Nesbit's legal adviser and counsel when she made certain statements to him.

Hummel evaded this, however, by saying he was acting solely as White's counsel and no legal action had been contemplated in behalf of Miss Nesbit. He said he was paid a yearly retainer by Stanford White and could not say exactly what he charged the architect for drawing up the affidavit. Asked if it was $1,000, he burst into laughter and said, ap-

For the purposes of education and entertainment the automobile dealers of Indianapolis are going to have the biggest opening next week that ever was held in this city. The details of the week were perfected at a meeting held last night, when plans were made for the decoration of all of the salesrooms on an elaborate scale.

It is planned to have a week of education for the scooter. Every dealer will trim his salesroom in the most artistic manner and throw an odor of something more pleasant than gasoline about it. The guests are to be entertained as stylishly as the circumstances will permit, and the dealers were agreed that they could do at least as much as any other merchant in the city.

"Auto Week" a Gala One.

"Automobile week" is to be made a gala one. It will be inaugurated with a parade on Monday afternoon, in which hundreds of machines will take part. The string of vehicles will pass all over the city, starting and ending on the Circle.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the electric roads will make a rate into Indianapolis and the enthusiasts from towns in other parts of the State will be taken care of. Other features which have been planned will give the auto a prominence it never has had in Indianapolis before.

"We will show what a prominent place the auto has here and it will astonish almost everybody," said one of the dealers. "We will spend a week educating the people about the machine, showing them how strongly it has become entrenched in our everyday life. We will show that it is a polite vehicle and not the terror it has been represented to be in the past."

At the salesroom it will be arranged to show the vehicles better than they could be shown at a show.

MINES CLOSED BECAUSE OF FLOOD.

Continued Downpour Causes Damage and Impedes Traffic.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 13.—The continued downpour during the last three days is having a damaging effect in many directions. As a result several mines were closed at Linton, Vicksburg and other towns in the district today. The Wabash River has risen three feet seven inches during the last twenty-four hours, and telegraph communication is being interrupted and much trouble is being experienced by the traction company in operating cars.

The quick rise in the river waters is giving much concern to the villagers of Taylorville, who were driven from their homes this winter by the flood. The danger line is still over three feet distant. Lightning early this morning did considerable damage to the traction, telegraph and telephone lines in the vicinity of Terre Haute. The subpower station at Farmersburg was out of commission for a short time, and telegraphic communication was cut off along the E. & I. Railroad between this city and Evansville.

Rains south of here were reported to be exceptionally heavy. In Greene County much damage was done to bridges over creeks. Farmers report that the water is causing damage to early seeding.

RAINFALL HEAVIEST IN YEARS.

Trains Blocked and Property Damaged Near Bedford.

BEDFORD, Ind., March 13.—The rainfall in Bedford and vicinity last night and today has been the heaviest known in ten years. Tremendous electric storms have also prevailed. The Southern Indiana is cut off east of Bedford by the washing out of a bridge span and general overflow.

No trains have moved over that part of the road since early last night. West of Bedford all streams are out of their banks, and serious damage is threatened. The Switz City branch of the Monon is nine feet under water in places and still coming up. No trains have run on that line today.

North the Monon is fighting the water at Salt Creek and other streams, and local preparations are being made to cope with the flood should any breaks occur.

Leatherwood is on a rampage and communication with the cement plants will be cut off tomorrow. Rural carriers have not been able to complete their routes today, the country roads being almost impassable. Much damage throughout southern Indiana must result. The downpour continues heavy tonight.
