WOMEN EARN PRAISE

LEAD IN BUTLER CANVASS

Set Pace for Men in Effort to Complete $250,000 Endowment Fund.

The place of woman in the realm of business will shortly be eliminated as a matter of discussion if the practical demonstration of her ability which Indianapolis is witnessing in these latter days continues a week longer.

"The College Widows" and the "Dorcas Society" committees, composed entirely of women, reported larger subscriptions yesterday to the Butler College endowment fund than any of the fourteen committees of men, with one single exception.

No Soldier Named D. O. Gray in Company B—Probe into the Brownsville Riot of Troops Continues.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Four rifles from Company B, Twenty-fifth Infantry, were used in the Brownsville affray, if the ordnance department of the army can substantiate the reports sent to the Senate Committee on Military Affairs today concerning the microscopic examinations of the thirty-three shells picked up in the streets of the town on the morning following the shooting.

All of the rifles in the possession of the battalion at Ft. Brown on the night of Aug. 13 were sent to the Springfield arsenal and two shots were fired from each. The shells used were compared with those picked up at Brownsville and the officer making the tests reported that it has been demonstrated beyond dispute

CREELMAN CALLED TO CITY

Son of Chicago Millionaire Leaves His Business to Refute Character Attacks on Mrs. Jackson, Involved in Domestic Trouble.

Charles Creelman, son of a Chicago millionaire, has been called to Indianapolis to aid in straightening out the domestic turmoil which has beset Mrs. Mary Spear Jackson and her husband, Renfro Jackson, of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Creelman came from Milwaukee last week at the request of W. W. Lowry, Mrs. Jackson's attorney, and will remain here for an indefinite period.

It was Creelman's name that was connected with the domestic breach of the Jacksons, which has stirred high society circles in the South, and it is understood that his presence in Indianapolis means that no stone is to be left unturned in refuting the insinuations against Mrs. Jackson's integrity.

THOUSANDS WITNESS GREAT AUTO PAGEANT

Over Two Hundred Machines in Line, Led by Mayor Bookwalter's Car.

GARAGES HOLD OPENINGS

Buyers and Sightseers Attracted to the City.

Ten thousand interested spectators in Monument Place and along the principal thoroughfares, the honk-honk of scores of horns and the splendid display of more than 200 automobiles in imposing pageant yesterday afternoon proclaimed the first annual opening of Indianapolis automobile dealers.

Shortly after noon touring cars, runabouts, roadsters and machines of every kind and description began to spin around Monument Place like so many horses ready for exhibit. As the cars lined up around the circle throngs of people flocked to the Monument plaza, making one of the most spectacular scenes perhaps in the history of the city.

New cars added much to the pompous show. By far the greater number of machines were of the 1907 model, and, with the bright sunshine, the scene was dazzling. The great number of new machines, too, was an interesting feature to the spectators, showing beyond a doubt that automobiling is growing by leaps and bounds.

Finally, after all the machines had found their proper places, Mayor Bookwalter's car came spinning into sight, and this was the signal for the start.

Led by the city's chief executive the magnificent line moved west on Market street to Senate avenue, and then south to Washington street. On Washington street the procession was hailed by hundreds. Interest could not have been more intense perhaps had it been a circus day. The sidewalks were crowded, and out of the crush could be heard comments of admiration as various cars passed by.

A complete tour of the business thoroughfares was made and the gay decorations of the garages greeted the line. From the business section of the city the procession made its way north on Delaware street to Sixteenth street, not denying the residence section a peep at the show. Back again to the central part of the city, and then the parade was disbanded and the machines were hurried away to their various fields of duty.
