LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS.
Marion, 11, Danville, 4
Indianapolis, 7, Logansport, 8
Anderson, 5, Kokomo, 1

Lincoln, there is another city in the State anxious for a return of the game, and it is quite possible that the team will be transferred rather than to have the league break up before the end of the season.

Last week the Kokomo fans started a boycott against the team in that city and positively refused to attend the games unless changes were made in the team. At that time there was talk of taking the club away from that city and putting it in Terre Haute, which place is eager for a return of the game. But it was unnecessary, as the management of the Kokomo club signed Jessup, and the managers awarded Bone of the Logansport Club to the Wildcats, and now everything seems to be serene in the city.

The one thing that has worked havoc in several of the teams of the Central this season has been personal differences among the players, and many a good team has been disrupted on this account. Logansport had a good team with Bone and Mercer on the rush line, but the men were unable to get along with each other, and this was the reason that the Tigers lost many a game. Over at Kokomo Devlin and Roberts were unable to agree, and a glance at the position of the Wildcats in the race answers all questions.

MUCH PERSONAL FEELING.

This personal feeling has been cropping out all season and so it can be seen that the managers have been working all the time under great disadvantages, and when they thought they had winning combinations on the floor some petty feud would develop and the first thing they knew the men would be throwing games. The evil could not be curbed as there were not enough players in the West to fill the vacant places.

Several of the switches of last Thursday were made on this account and it is hoped now that the men will get into the game and play the sort of polo of which they are capable. The Central League has the best players in the country and there is no reason why the teams should not be evenly matched.

Indianapolis and Anderson were the only clubs in the league not affected by the wholesale exchange of players the past week. Manager Cohen would not hear of the transferring of any of his players and he was justified in his stand for it would have been suicide to the club to have taken any of the players. The Anderson management is satisfied with its team and will get to going good as soon as Wodtke rounds into form.

SWITCHES SHOULD HELP.

The switches made by the managers should help all of the teams. Bone and Cunningham Jr. should make a great pair on the rush line for the Wildcats. They played on the rush line of the old Richmond team and are two of the fastest men in the West. With Jessup at goal, the Kokomo Club now has three of the old Richmond stars and the five should step some from now on to the end of the season, although it looks to be hopelessly out of the race for the flag.

Lincoln should help some at Ft. Wayne owing to the sort of polo that Jason has been playing ever since joining the team. McGillvray and Mercer should look after the goal getting of the Logansport team in good shape and President Poor is perfectly satisfied to have Roberts work on the rush line with Campbell.

The race in the Central has developed the fact that the local quintet is about the best in the business. Marion was close for a time, but a victory achieved by the Indians over the "Foxy Five" put the club out of the running for the time being. The other teams of the league have not changed their positions, but the recent changes may help them to get out of the rut they are now in.

CARL FISHER NOW OWNS AN AIR SHIP

Local Automobile Dealer Buys a Flying Machine at Madison Square Garden Show.

AERIAL BALLOON COSTS $3,000

Well-Known Racer Will Now Go After New Records.

Carl Fisher, the well-known automobile driver of this city, has become the owner of an airship, purchased last week at the Automobile Show at Madison Square Garden in New York, according to press dispatches from that place. It will not be an uncommon occurrence this spring to see the man who has smashed several records in the automobile world darting around through the beautiful blue ozone, scattering airship records and also a few church spires and the like.

Mr. Fisher has always been an ardent follower of sports, and his recent purchase is indicative that he is through with things earthly for a time and will this summer take to discovering things away up in the air, and maybe he intends taking a trip to the north pole and making a discovery before any of the rest of the airship delegation gets started.

FISHER ENTHUSIASTIC SPORT.

Mr. Fisher, when the bicycle craze was at its height, was an ardent admirer of this sort of sport and many a mile he has whirled off in dizzy time. When the auto appeared on the market he was one of the first of this part of the country to take to the wheel and it was only a short time until he was traveling around the country breaking records and also fences and machines, and now he is to go after things higher up in the world and it is predicted that he will smash everything in sight and some things that are not in sight from this level.

The news of his purchase of an airship comes as a surprise to all of his friends in this city, as when he left here he had no intention of making such a purchase, or if he did he kept it to himself and refused to allow any one in on the secret.

The airship purchased by Mr. Fisher is said to be one of the finest on exhibition at the New York show and is one that has been tried and proven satisfactory. He will bring it to this city and will establish balloon quarters at his garage on Illinois street, where he will put it into shape for the coming season's campaign.

RATHER EXPENSIVE TOY.

The following is a dispatch from New York giving particulars regarding his purchase and his plans:

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—In the armory the balloon buying fever was in marked evidence for the first time since the opening of the exhibit of the Aero Club. Leo Stevens, the balloon builder of Hoboken, sold his big 76-foot airship that is the most remarkable decorative object in the big armory room, as it hangs suspended from one of the immense girders supporting the roof. Carl Fisher of Indianapolis, Ind., who has devoted some attention to automobile speeding and has recently become enthusiastic over the problem of aerial flight, was the purchaser. He paid $3,000 for it, rather an expensive toy, but Mr. Fisher is going to enlarge the mechanical properties of the ship and he expects to make interesting flights in the West as soon as his improvements are completed.

have nothing to do in securing coaches, that duty being left in the hands of the trustees of the college and there will be no football training before college opens, the first time the uniforms may be donned being the opening day of college work. In the future the coach of any of the football teams belonging to the "Big Nine" colleges must be a member of the faculty, the purely professional paid coach is not to be employed.

The adoption of the so-called six months rule has proved so much of a success that the professors resolved to advise that it be extended to one year. This means that high school boys who enter college in the fall or at any other time will have to forego participation in athletics for a full year instead of six months. The rule also applies to students coming from one college to another.

Among the other recommendations made were the following:

The number of intercollegiate games played by each university team shall be limited to five.

The admission to all athletic meets shall be limited to 50 cents for students. No training table shall be maintained for the athletes.

THREE YEARS LIMIT FOR GAME.

That no one may play for more than three years in the aggregate in any intercollegiate sport and that this participation be confined to undergraduates.

That no team consisting in whole or in part of college students shall play with high schools, academies or independent professional schools.

That it is recommended to the college conference that its rule which allows the first three games of the season to be uncounted in participation be eliminated.

That freshmen teams and second elevens shall play only with teams from their own institutions.

ANDERSON POLO TEAM SOLD.

David Durbin Will Be the New Manager of the Club.

ANDERSON, Ind., Jan. 20.—A deal was made here tonight whereby the management of the Anderson polo team changed hands. Norton and Fisher, the old managers, will retire and the new company, to be known as the Anderson Athletic Association, will take active management, with David Durbin of this city as secretary and manager.

The new company is composed of a number of Anderson's best citizens, and is organized with the purpose of having a winning polo team. The new management will assume the franchise of the Anderson team, the other rights of the rink being reserved by the old management.

The officers of the new company are A. B. Jones president, Dr. S. C. Newlin vice president, David H. Durbin secretary and treasurer.

A committee, composed of David Durbin, A. H. Vestal and J. H. Millsbaugh, will go to Indianapolis tomorrow and there consult with the other managers of the league and make an effort to complete a trade whereby the local team will be strengthened.

ABANDON TRACK ATHLETICS.

Athletic Management Gives Lack of Material as Reason.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Jan. 20.—There will be no track team here this year. This has practically been decided upon by the management of athletics. The reason for quitting this branch of sport is that there is no material for the team. During the last three years track athletics have been on the decline and last year Michigan Agricultural College defeated the varsity in a dual meet at Lansing. Draper is not to take part in athletics this spring and other men of ability also did not care to compete.

A few years back it was not unusual for the championship of the West in track athletics to be won by Notre Dame and several men of world renown have won their laurels while wearing the gold and blue. The local gymnasium is one of the finest and best equipped in the West. It has a twelve-lane dirt track which has been the envy of all visiting teams.

Joe Langtry, formerly of Notre Dame, who played half back on Ohio State last fall, is expected to enter school here today.

BONGERZ TO UMPIRE.

LAPORTE, Ind., Jan. 20.—Phil Bongertz, late chief of police of Laporte, Ind., has been signed as one of the umpires of the Central Baseball League for the coming season. He has been an enthusiastic player from boyhood and managed local teams several seasons.

red and white lads were nerved up to a point of determination. The confidence soon left the Turners as the Blacksmiths began a bombardment for the basket. With the ten points as a handicap the South Siders were soon on the upper side of a 21 to 4 combination and playing their adversaries off their feet.

The "Dutch" took a brace near the close of the session, which ended, however, without their gaining any of the handicap, the score standing at 28 to 13. Try as hard as they might there was no stopping the Blacksmiths when once they were started in the second half. The final session was a clean-cut victory on even terms for the high school lads, who added fifteen points to their total, while the
