

Monarch to Pilot Car in Speedway Race

Speed King Enters 500-Mile Race

BOB BURMAN

"WILD BOB" NAMED TO DRIVE BIG BENZ

Burman Will Pilot Monster German Car in 500-Mile Race Memorial Day.

MOROSS ENTERS TWO TEUTONS

Promoter Buys Newly Imported Speed Creations to Contest in Speedway Event.

"Wild Bob" Burman, world's speed king, the man who has driven a motor car faster than any other human being ever dared, will pit his daring and skill against a field of forty-five other starters in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial day, May 30. This announcement was made by the management of the Speedway last night upon telegraphic advice from New York that E. A. Moross, Burman's manager, had made good his promise to bring the motor monarch to Indianapolis for the long grind. "Wild Bob" will be seen at the wheel of a newly imported Benz car, which is one of two entered by Moross. The driver of the other Benz has not been named.

Moross closed the deal for the two cars, and immediately gave in the entry of both. They are the same creations of the German factory which won many victories in Europe and were sent here upon the solicitation of Jesse Brallier, managing director of the Benz Import Company of New York. The big Teuton motors have 521 inches piston displacement and are of the two-mile-a-minute type for which the Benz factory has been noted. The American promoter connected the importation of the cars with the fact that as the machines had reached this country and they will make their first American appearance in the Indianapolis race. They will be shipped on to Indianapolis at once and Burman and his teammate will start tuning the monster motors for the contest on Memorial day.

BREAKS ALL ENTRY MARKS.

The entries for the long race are closed and Moross got in just under the wire along with the Simplex Motor Car Company of Mishawaka, Ind., which entered a second Amplex car to be driven by Walter Jones. This brings the total list of cars to start in the 500-mile race up to forty-six, twenty more than the greatest number ever before entered in one event in the history of automobile racing.

The German Benz cars which Burman and his fellow pilot will drive through the 500-mile grind, are said by the foreign makers to be the fastest cars of their size ever constructed. For more than a year the skilled German mechanics worked on these masterpieces, which these Teutons have, they met in many astounding performances abroad. This is the first appearance of the cars outside of the European courses, where they have been conquerors of every competitor.

The Indianapolis race will be the first appearance of "Wild Bob" at the wheel since he made his time-annihilating flights across the wave-washed sands of the Florida beach, and shattered the world's record for the kilometer, the mile and the two-mile distances. This Michigan boy, 27-years old, took the same car in which Barney Oldfield made his records, and set the world again by opening the throttle as far as it would go and setting the work of the former speed king at naught.

WON FIRST RACE IN 1905.

Burman said before he gained possession of the Benz cars that he had never

Jim McGuire Resigns as Manager of Naps

CLEVELAND, O., May 3.—James T. McGuire, manager of the Cleveland Americans, resigned today. In a letter to C. W. Somers, president of the club, McGuire states that disappointment at the team's showing this season, and a desire to give the club an opportunity to secure a manager who may be able to get better results, are the reasons for his resignation.

President Somers announced that George Stovall, captain and first baseman of the team, would take charge of it until a new manager is selected. He said that McGuire would continue with the club as scout.

McGuire was manager of the Boston American League team from June 7, 1907, until Aug. 28, 1908, when he joined the Cleveland club, which was making a fight for the pennant, to act in an advisory capacity to the manager, Napoleon Lajoie. During the early part of 1909 he acted as scout. When Lajoie resigned as manager in August, 1909, he was made manager.

The team finished sixth place in 1909, last year it finished fifth, and at the present time is in seventh place. With the exception of a few veterans it is made up almost altogether of young recruits. It has been handicapped by sickness and injuries and recently experienced a big loss through the death of "Addie" Jones, the club's star pitcher. McGuire was long noted as a big league catcher, serving with the Brooklyn Nationals in the zenith of his career.

pounded away with kidney punches, which did not affect the Hoosier. Dillon's round by a shade.

Round 3—They danced about in the center of the ring, then Moha jabbed, but was blocked. Dillon's lead with his left landed after that by Moha. Moha let loose with a series of left and right uppercuts, one of which landed squarely on Dillon's jaw. He crossed with his right, but Jack was on the job and caught back fiercely. Dillon's right swing at this time was the best of the fight so far. Moha led with his right and Dillon met him with a right on the nose which made him bite his lips. Moha mugged his glove across the face of the Hoosier, but Dillon had the best of the round.

REPUDIATE GALLERY HISSES.

Round 4—They walked into a clinch. Dillon swung a right to Moha's ear, followed with a left uppercut that landed on Moha's chin. The blows did not seem to hurt Moha, for he fought back readily, poking away with left jabs at Dillon's face. They stood toe to toe. Moha landed a right swing, which Dillon followed with an uppercut. Their exchanges were fierce at close quarters and they appeared to be warming up as the pace quickened. Dillon's eye was cut slightly, but it did not bother him in the least. Dillon walked in with a series of quick short blows without a return from Moha. The men were careful, although going at full speed. The round was even. Hisses from the gallery were followed by a storm of applause for the fighters.

Round 5—Moha jabbed with his left and Dillon uppercut twice in succession. Moha landed on his stomach and followed with lefts on Dillon's elbow, the Hoosier's blocking being a feature. Dillon landed a right to the stomach and then grazed Moha's nose with an overhand swing. Moha looked through Dillon's defense with a left jab to the stomach. He uppercut Dillon, but Jack came back with a right jab, which staggered Moha. Moha broke ground when Dillon swung wildly, landing several stinging rights and lefts.

Round 6—They exchanged wallops at close quarters. Moha landed on Dillon's stomach. He followed with a right uppercut, but Dillon penetrated Moha's defense with a similar swing. They exchanged hard wallops, both men playing for the body. Several of Moha's blows appeared to be a trifle low, but the Hoosier never murmured. Moha hammered Dillon's kidneys and poked a stiff jab over Dillon's head as they broke away from a clinch. Dillon swung to Moha's jaw. Moha met him with a series of short, dangerous blows and landed several stinging wallops on Dillon's chin and shoulders. Moha played for Dillon's stomach. Dillon led with his right to Moha's face. In a clinch they tapped each other at will, but none of the blows were dangerous enough to cause any trouble. The round was even.

CROWD WANTS KNOCKOUT.

Round 7—Dillon landed two right and left swings to Moha's jaw. He followed with a right to the jaw and Moha contented himself with clapping short, hard blows on the back of Dillon's head. They both swung wildly. Moha continued to play for Dil-

CROWD WANTS KNOCKOUT.

Round 7—Dillon landed two right and left swinks to Moha's jaw. He followed with right to the jaw and Moha contented himself with chopping short, hard blows on the back of Moha's head. They both swung wildly. Moha continued to play for Dillon's stomach. Dillon swung a right to Moha's head and followed with two to the stomach. Both fighters landed blows on the jaw. Dillon kept at it, landing a left to Moha's jaw, while Moha jabbed weakly to Jack's chin. Dillon swung a terrific right to Moha's ear just as the bell rang.

Round 8—Both men delivered short, quick blows at close range. Dillon landed the best of it. Moha landed jolts on Dillon's stomach and Dillon caused the crowd to cheer wildly as he called out heavily with terrific swings to Moha's head and body. Moha landed a dozen blows in the head. The last punch landed on Moha's jaw and the crowd cried wildly for Jack to finish him. Dillon measured his man and delivered a terrific overhand swing to the point of Moha's jaw, but the upstart that Moha met him with took him unawares and unbalanced him. Dillon recovered and planted several rights on Moha's face. They were in a clinch as the bell rang. It was Dillon's round.

Round 9—Moha rushed across the ring, sailing into a clinch with a left jab, anxious to make up for the shade that Dillon had piled up on him in the last round. Dillon met him with a right to the stomach as the three fierce blows in a row. Moha blocked three fierce blows from the Milwaukee man and batted away a hard blow. They wrestled about and Dillon landed a stiff right to Moha's stomach after which he followed with a right to Moha's face. They exchanged body blows and Moha missed a right swing to Moha's jaw, which was missed again. Dillon's nose when his hands were off. They swung wild at each other's jaw, trying to land a haymaker. It was Dillon's round.

Round 10—As they rushed in Moha missed a beautiful chance, at Dillon's jaw, and landed on Dillon's stomach and face in quick succession. Dillon stood against the ropes and pegged away at Moha's head. The Milwaukee man put his head down and tried rough tactics on Jack, but got the worst of it. Dillon landed two on the face with a similar return. Dillon swung a right up and overhand. Moha landed on Dillon's jaw and they exchanged wallops to the head which did little damage. They were swinging fiercely when the bell rang. The last round was even.

ENTER ACTUAL COMPETITION.

During the 1910 season he gained even greater prominence than before by piloting a Buick through the Grand Prize American car and third place in the race. Fifteen fatal fire changes ruined his chance for the first prize, but despite this handicap he gave the winners a chase and took his car through without a mechanical repair. The performance he made in this race alone against tire changes and the grueling task of stopping for ten times and working to replace the worn-out rubber shoes, won him the title with many a "greatest driver in the world." Since then he has proved his right to the name and the fame.

Unlike the former holders of that title, Burman will enter actual racing conflict with others. He will not retire to the milder form of motor driving—exhibition work, but will give others a chance to prove their superiority. wheel to wheel in open race. Racing experts assert that his entry in the Indianapolis race will do more than any one other to make the long event record breaker from start to finish. Burman has more than the $25,000 gold prize at stake—he must protect his title. Although it can not be taken from him through the loss of this race in so long a field, still the "Wild One" knows eyes centered on his first performance since he snatched another second away from Father Time on the beach.

Burman's entry completes the list of great American drivers in the 500-mile race. There is not a famous motor race in the long race, and "Wild Bob" offered the finishing touch to make this possible.

THREE TEAMS NOW TIED FOR RUNNER-UP POSITION.

Trio of Shortridge Nines on Even Terms, Two Games Behind Leaders.

The Grays tightened their hold on first place in the Shortridge High School Baseball League yesterday by overwhelming the Blues 10 to 3. At the same time the Reds trounced the Whites to the tune of 15 to 5 and as a result the Reds, Whites and Blues now stand tied for second place.

The Grays did not waste any time getting after Quigley and in the first three innings piled up ten runs off eleven hits. Ward then took the mound for the Blues in the fourth inning and stopped the slaughter, holding the Grays to one hit for the remainder of the game. Hendricks, the Gray pitcher, received splendid support from his team. The work of Capt. Toole behind the bat and that of Aaron in left field aided in the victory, the latter making a sensational catch on Phelps' bat that induced a home run. Spiegel, the Blues' first baseman, excelled in the field, scooping up everything that came near him in easy manner.

In the Red White game Kennigton, Red pitcher, had the Whites at his mercy throughout, letting them down with hits, keeping them well scattered. On the other hand, the White pitchers were easy falling in corners with the ball. Laughtiller was the batting ace of the day, getting four hits out of five times up. Scores:

Blues

Blues	5	4	0	0	0	10	12	3
Whites	0	0	0	0	1	3	6	2

Batteries—(Grays) Hendricks and Toole; (Blues) Quigley, Ward and Welch and Watkins.

Reds

Reds	0	1	6	4	0	15	20	1
Whites	1	0	0	0	0	1	2	4

Batteries—(Reds) Kennigton and Burns; (Whites) Mawrer, Skelton and McNeely.
