TORNEYS SUM UP LIEUT. SUTTON CASE

Accuses Charges Conspiracy of Falseness to Help Living and Blacken Dead.

IRNEY DENOUNCES SUTTON

Accuses Him in Attitude of Coward and Makes Attack Upon His Character.

INDIANAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 13.—A large audience was present this morning at the opening of the last day of the open sessions of the court of inquiry investigating the death on Oct. 13, 1907, of Lieut. Charles N. Sutton Jr., U. S. M. C. The reaction was the summing up by Henry Davis, counsel for Mrs. Sutton, and E. Birney, counsel for Lieut. Adams; possibly something from Maj. Henry Howard, judge advocate. Mr. Davis's argument did, in fact, lead the judge advocate to speak, though briefly, and what he said was not in the nature of argument touching the case.

The members of the court were all in dress uniform, which gave the scene in the courtroom a more formal air than when, as has been the case hitherto, they wore white duck. Mrs. Sutton was present at the afternoon session. It was explained privately that she had been affected by the touching references of the late lieut. to the fact that she was unable to appear in the afternoon. Mrs. Sutton Parker, her daughter, was present throughout the proceedings, however, and followed the arguments with the closest attention, as had her mother on the morning of the trial.

GIBNEY LANDS IN HOSPITAL

MOTORCYCLE POLICEMAN, TERROR TO LAW VIOLATORS ON WHEELS, TUMBLES WHILE "WARMING UP" AT SIXTY-FIVE MILES AN HOUR.

While driving his motorcycle at the rate of sixty-five miles an hour yesterday on the track at the Motor Speedway, Albert C. Gibney was thrown and severely injured. His escape from death is regarded as marvelous. His recovery will take a month or six weeks.

Gibney is the motorcycle officer of the police department, and as an officer was bogey of the speed fiends of the city, whether they drove automobiles or motorcycles. The machine he was driving was not the police machine with which he has been in the habit of chasing speeders, but a Reading-Standard race

Only Warming Up.

Gibney at the time was warming up with Fred Hurck, and those who were catching the time on the machines say that at the time of the accident, when Gibney was leading his practice opponent, the officer was going better than a mile a minute.

As Gibney told the story to Detective Quigley and Louis Flihan, secretary to Chief Metzger, at the hospital, he was oiling his machine, a process which requires no slackening of speed, but which does require the use of one hand. The machine skidded, says Gibney, as it neared the curve in the track and before he could bring both hands into service he was thrown.

An examination at the hospital after the accident revealed a number of bad cuts about the head and arms, the exact nature of which could not be learned for some time on account of the dirt ground in. His head was badly bruised and it is feared that some of the ligaments of his arms will be found torn. He was taken to the City Hospital.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The last of the trouble between the streetcar companies of this city and their employees, which threatened to lead to a great proportion, passed away. Formal peace under a three and a half year contract was agreed upon in a conference between the officials of the companies and of the unions.

The proposition made yesterday by President John M. Roach of the United Side Lines, which formal peace was made to the South Side by President T. E. Mitten of the Side Lines, was accepted by M. E. Buckler, representative of the men.

Whether Friday the 13th had anything to do with it, yesterday was a celebrated day so far as the Federation of American Motorcyclists' convention was concerned. The rain caused postponement of the speed tests at the speedway until today and Monday. At midnight last night the committee appointed by the convention to draft the classification for trade riders, private owners and professionals had failed to agree. It was settled that these three classes should be made, but the drawing of the limitations seemed far from complete at midnight.

The committee was composed of all veteran men and was as follows: J. P. O'Connell, chairman, from New York; E. G. Ovington from New York; R. G. [unclear] from New York; J. Leo Bauer from New York, and C. J. Berrack from Buf-

there is no sport. If the F. A. M. wipes out the amateur distinction and permits amateurs and professionals of any sport to mix, it will drive away and keep away the most desirable elements and lower the tone and standard of motorcycling. According to the A. A. U. laws, I do not see how we could issue a registration card to, or otherwise recognize as an amateur, any man, who competes under such rules. If adopted, I certainly will recommend the cancellation of our alliance."

last breath. He disagreed with others when he said that motorcycling is an athletic sport as much as yachting and many other such.

Rempiss declared that it is not an athletic sport, that it all depends on the machine. Chairman Ovington also said that it is not an athletic sport and should not be classed as such. He cited an example, the automobile, which is most closely allied with the motorcycle, and said that the A. A. A. does not consider a driver a professional because he competes with a professional.

Following are the three classes sought: 1, private owner; 2, trade riders, whose expenses are paid, but who do not receive money for racing, and 3, professionals under the A. A. U. rules. The "Tub" came from the opposition, declaring that if they let a professional enter in competition with trade riders, and then let private owners compete against professionals, then all would become branded professionals.

Every one felt that it was a crisis in the history of the F. A. M. and all agreed that this organization could not take an entirely new stand in the threatening face of other athletic organizations.

It is the general concession that this year's convention is the best in the history of the club and the troubles are

GIANTS TRIM CUBS TWICE VICTORS BY 5 TO 2 AND 3 TO 0

BROWN BLOWS UP IN FIRST GAME IN EIGHTH, ALLOWING FIVE RUNS, WHILE MATHWSON WINS EASILY IN SECOND.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—New York won both games today before the largest local attendance of the season. Brown kept the visitors down to two singles in seven innings of the opener, but was batted for five hits in the eighth, which, with an error, netted five runs. The locals scored their two at the start on a gift, two hits, and two wild throws, but were unable to touch Wittse after the first inning.

Mathewson was a complete puzzle in the second game, allowing but five scatter hits, only one Chicagoan reaching third. Three bunched hits, one a double, gave New York two runs in the third; a double, an out and a long fly scoring the other. Scores:
